HOT WATER LINE BREAKS DOWN

Westmoor Enjoys a Surprise Holiday

By DON MILLER

Westmoor High School's 2,000 students returned to classes Monday after enjoying a surprise half-day holiday Friday—mandated when the school's leak-plagued hot water system broke down completely.

Plumbers worked through the weekend until midnight Sunday before the system was placed in operation again.

An official of the Jefferson Union High School District emphasized the repairs were only temporary.

Schools Supt. Edward Morgan said that Mario Ciampi, the school's architect, has been asked to prepare a complete set of recommendations for restoring the hot water system to full operating efficiency.

The system, which was installed underground when the school was built seven years ago, has leaked periodically for the past 10 months. Water seepage at one time had reached as high as 12,900 gallons a day.

The water line ruptured again early Thursday afternoon in the northwest corner of the school.

Water seeped up into a classroom and classes were shifted elsewhere for the remainder of the day.

Friday morning, as workmen from Cooper Brothers, the plumbers, sought to stem the leak, school opened with no hot water or heat. The building's temperature was 65 degrees, which later rose to 70 because of the body heat of students.

Classes, however, were dismissed at 12:30 p.m. because cafeteria personnel did not have any hot water with which to prepare lunches.

About 1,200 students rely each day on the school's lunch program and there had not been sufficient time to notify them the cafeteria would not be in operation, according to Morgan.

Fred Goodell, business manager of the district, said the latest leak was in a six-inch pipe buried seven feet below the classroom.

He reported that plumbers found the pipe "badly deteriorated" and instead of being able to patch it were forced to replace the whole section.

After the repairs, the water was turned on again Sunday. As pressure built up, another leak was discovered in the line near the school parking lot, Goodell said.

Plumbers borrowed a clamp from Daly City and closed the leak.

Goodell said that "it appears as if the entire line is in bad shape."

After the system leaked badly at times last year, repairs costing $35,000 were made. This involved taking part of the system out of the ground and installing it on the roof of the school.

Morgan, in announcing that Ciampi has been requested to prepare plans, said the entire system would probably have to

CSM Bonds To Be Voted On Tuesday

North Campus Included in Election

(Editorial, Page 9)
(Another Story, Page 15)

North County voters will go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots on a $12.8-million bond proposal for the College of San Mateo.

If approved at the polls, the CSM bonds will provide two new junior colleges in San Mateo County.

One will be in the Pacific Heights section of San Bruno and will serve the northern end of the county.

The other will be situated in the hills of Woodside and will serve the southern end.

In the north county, the number of residents qualified to vote according to registration figures released by County Clerk John Bruning are: Daly City, 19,993; Broadmoor, 2,274, and Pacifica, 8,009.

Only fringe areas of South San Francisco are included in the Junior College district.

Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, president of the college, has said that by building the new campus and buying a coastside site now, the district will avoid considerable increases in future costs of construction and land.

Beauty Lineup in Pacifica

ONE OF these nine Pacifica lovelies will wear the crown of Miss Pacifica this year. The girls are vying for a crown that will be awarded in a gala pageant May 23 at Oceana High School. Until then, the candidates are undertaking a rigorous training course in charm and beauty tips. Left to right are Sharon Mershon, Patricia Gundran, Cathy Henkel, Janice Vermillion, Theresa Foley, Bonnie Trudeau, Sandra Kester, Charlotte Turner and Sharyn Anderson.

Daly City Population Is 57,100

Daly City's official head count went up to 57,100 from 52,800 during the past year City Finance Director Joseph Arch reported last week.

The population jump, which cost the city $325 to determine, means Daly City will receive about $34,000 more annually from gas tax and motor vehicle in lieu state subventions.

Most of the rise came with annexation of the Bayshore city area. Arch said his estimated figures come closer to 60,000 and he is preparing for another census in December.

S.S.F. Acts To Combat Jet Noise

Seeing a possible opportunity to design jet noise away from their city, South San Francisco councilmen Monday night authorized Attorney John Noonan to get moving.

Noonan was voted authorization to seek design aid, and set up conferences aimed at reshaping San Francisco's International Airport during the mammoth cargo city project planned by the Rockefeller and Crocker interests.

First is to be a conference between the council and San Francisco's Public Utilities commission to discuss the possibilities and determine how South San Francisco's ideas can be incorporated into the Pacific air commerce center development.

The idea, explained Noonan, is to reduce jet nuisance from current craft, and allay any future nuisance from supersonic airplanes.

Next step on the anti-nuisance campaign would be a conference with design consultants who could develop ideas which would help reduce jet take-off noise over the city. These ideas would be urged upon San Francisco's Public Utilities Commission for incorporation into their development plans.

Also to be developed by the design consultant would be suggestions for operation criteria which could reduce jet interference with bayside communities after the runway lengthening is completed.

MUNI EXTENSION

D. C. Chamber Backs Study

By MONTE DAYTON

Daly City's Chamber of Commerce last week added its voice to that of the City Council in asking for a serious study of the extension of San Francisco bus service into Daly City.

The Chamber's board of directors, meeting at the Friar Room Thursday for its monthly session, voted unanimously to endorse the city council's transportation committee recommendations made earlier last week.

Councilman Frank Pacelli, chairman of the committee, reported to the council March 9 that Daly City may be able to secure local bus service from the San Francisco Municipal Railway System.

Final decision will be based on cost studies now in progress, Pacelli explained.

At Thursday's Chamber meeting, Frank Curry reminded fellow directors that the Chamber had undertaken a major study on use of the Muni system some 10 years ago.

He said files compiled at that time would be made available to the city's study.

"I was on that committee," related Director Fred Martin, "and have felt all along that the only proper way to improve local bus transportation is to subsidize the municipal railway. But the council was against it at the time."

Peter Markovich, executive secretary of the Chamber, predicted that "San Francisco will be more co-operative once Mary's Help Hospital is in operation."

He maintained that many San Franciscans living in the Sunset and Excelsior districts would rely on Mary's Help for hospital service and would need transportation from their homes to the facility.

"It will certainly give us a better talking point with San Francisco," he added.

Northgate Transit Company, which now serves Daly City's transit needs, came in for some vigorous scolding at the Chamber session.

The Northgate firm was recently granted a five-cent fare increase by the state public utilities commission on the condition that quality of service be upgraded and that the company maintain a central headquarters with sufficient personnel to take care of the public's inquiries.

Markovich noted: "The service is still erratic and it's most disturbing to see the way they disregard their schedules."

He added that he receives nu-

Sullivan Is Choice Over Danforth

The County Democratic Convention Saturday endorsed W. Mark Sullivan of San Mateo over Donald H. Danforth of Pacifica for Congress.

Meeting in Aragon High School, the convention voted 93-45 to back Sullivan in his bid to unseat Republican J. Arthur Younger from his Eleventh Congressional District seat.

The convention also endorsed William J. Graham for State Senate and incumbent Leo J. Ryan and Mrs. June C. Barrett for the State Assembly.

The four endorsed candidates will seek election in November.

Ballots were cast by more than 170 delegates representing 20 Democratic clubs and their members.

Cranston to Address Pacifica Jaycee Unit

State Controller Alan Cranston will be the principal speaker at a charter night banquet of the new Pacifica Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday, April 10.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in Nick's Restaurant in Rockaway Beach.

The Pacifica Jaycees were granted their charter last month. William Feeney is serving as the group's first president.

The new group undertook its first civic program last weekend—the operation of a seat belt clinic in the Eureka Square Shopping Center parking lot.

Fred Stone served as chairman of the clinic.

PLAN IS WITHDRAWN

Eastmoor Park To Be Revised

By RON BATES

A plan to build 800 apartment units adjacent to Westmoor High School in Daly City was withdrawn from the consideration of the city's Planning Commission last week by developer Gus Pedemonte.

In a letter to the commission, Pedemonte said plans for the development are being reviewed and revised by his engineers and architects.

"At this time, we have made no definite decision regarding the development," he wrote.

Original plans for the apartment project, designated Eastmoor Park, called for the construction of 200 buildings on 25-foot lots on property off Eastmoor Avenue between St. Francis Heights Boulevard and Westmoor High School.

The plans were approved by the commission in January but were sent back by the City Council with a list of six points to be considered.

The points included parking, traffic control, aesthetics, the number and sizes of apartments and variable setbacks.

Pedemonte and Councilman Francis Pacelli have been meeting with residents of the area who had opposed the apartment development and with officials of the Jefferson Elementary School District who are concerned with future school enrollment.

In other action, the commission tabled a request to locate a mortuary in a residential area on the west side of Edgeworth Avenue between 87th and 88th Streets.

Nicholas Andreacchi of 7 Hermosa Lane, South San Francisco, one of four applicants, told the commissioners the mortuary would be located adjacent to a church.

He said the area is undeveloped and already has one commercial operation in the vicinity.

Commissioner Richard Dwyer pointed out that the zoning would be "an island." He said a similar zoning had been reversed by the state courts.

He added that a recent survey disclosed that considerable vacant commercial property existed within the city.

Another of the applicants, Anthony J. Mannina of San Bruno, said Daly City and not the State of California should rule on zonings within the City of Daly City.

"It is undeveloped," he said, "therefore, we're not moving into a residential area."

Mrs. Mary Frieberg of 30 Village Lane and Glen Nolan of 280 88th Street said they opposed the application.

Cabrillo to Be Widened In Pacifica

4-Lane Road Thru City Is Goal

Pacifica has been officially informed that all of Cabrillo Highway that extends through the city will be widened to four lanes as part of the current freeway project.

Earlier, the city had requested that the two-lane highway be widened from Vallemar as far as the city's southern boundary as an interim solution until funds could be made available for further extension of the free way.

The freeway project will extend the Edgemar Freeway south to Vallemar.

In a letter to the City Council, State Engineer J. C. Womack said a contract will be awarded for the widening of the highway from Vallemar south in April.

He estimated the project would take six months.

At the City Council meeting last week, Mayor Harold Feyge reported that the city is preparing for an Army Corps of Engineers hearing next month on shoreline erosion that has plagued the city for years.

Councilmen decided to appoint a citizens' committee to help prepare the city's position at the hearing.

However, the council took no action on a request from a delegation of Esplanade residents that a special consulting engineer be hired.

Members agreed that they and

Engineer to Probe Coast Outfall Line

The Pacifica City Council last week decided to hire a consulting engineer to recommend what the city should do about its sunken Sharp Park outfall line.

A SCUBA driver, making an inspection of the line late last month, discovered that a 600-foot steel section had broken off and was lying three feet down, buried in and filled with sand.

City Attorney Conrad Reisch recommended that the council first determine if the pipe was washed away because of a fault in the design, poor construction or natural causes.

City Engineer Al Roberts, in a lengthy report, said the city could either restore the line or provide for additional, secondary treatment at its shoreline sewage disposal plant.

With the broken line out of commission, sewage is being bypassed into the old Sharp Park outfall line.

This line, however, is not considered by city officials as long enough to discharge the effluent without contaminating beaches.

The outfall line was built in 1962 as part of a $1-million sewage treatment project. It had been authorized as part of a bond issue. Cost of the subma-

Serramonte Zoning Plan Is Held Over

A master zoning plan for the 916-acre Serramonte development, formerly known as the Christen Ranch, was held over for the second time by the Daly City Planning Commission last week.

The plan, which would establish zoning for the entire area, will govern a 75-acre regional shopping center, tower apartments, medium density apartments and about 1500 single family homes.

E. V. Schulhauser, vice president of the Suburban Realty Company, said construction would begin at the southerly end of the development on single family homes and an office for the developer.

He said grading of the property has already begun and completion of the entire devel-

6.4% INCREASE

Bayshore Gives Teachers Raise

Teachers in the Bayshore Elementary School District have been granted a 6.4 per cent salary increase. The boost will become effective in the 1964-65 school year. The teachers had not received a raise this year.

A salary schedule containing the increase was approved by the board of trustees. It had been worked out by a teachers' salary committee in consultation with the district's administration.

In approviing the schedule, trustees specified that it would be in effect for the next three years.

Schools Suprintendent Natalie Lipman noted that the schedule probably would be reviewed if trends in area teacher salaries changed materially.

The schedule provides a first year salary of $5,200 and a maximum of $10,400 after 13 years for teachers with a bachelor of arts degree and 75 graduate units of study.

The old salary schedule had a floor of $5,000 and a ceiling of $9,500.

The district has 22 teachers, Miss Lipman reported that all 22 will be with the district again in the next school year — the second year in succession the district will have had no changes in its staff.

Five of the teachers have been with the district from 1 to 4 years, four from 5 to 8 years and 13 from 9 to 13 years.

In other district matters, trustees authorized the administration to conduct a survey of the ethnic and racial make-up of the district's enrollment.

The survey had been requested by the California School Boards Association. The association will use surveys from all the state's districts to prepare a report.

Trustees approved the hiring of Peat Marwick Mitchell and Company as auditors for 1964. The firm has audited the district's books in the past.

Roy H. Perry Jr., the applicant, said he wanted to demolish the present structure to build apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vose of 327 Crocker and Mrs. Matthew Collins of 351 Crocker said apartments would improve the area.

Dwyer and Commissioner McRobert Stewart pointed out this would be spot zoning and suggested that a petition for the entire block be submitted to the commission for consideration.

In other action, the commission:

Tabled a request for a use permit from William Lagomarsino of 7100 Mission Street for storage and sale of automobiles on the east side of Sullivan Avenue between 88th and 89th Streets.

Approved rezoning of property at 799 Hillside Boulevard from single family to apartment. The petition was filed by Paul Passaglia.

Students of the Jefferson Elementary School District, the Jefferson Union High School District, the South San Francisco Unified School District and the Laguna Salada School District will be on Easter vacation from Monday to Friday.

Students in Catholic schools in the North County will leave school Thursday, March 26 at 3 p.m. and return April 2.

She'll Play Witch's Role

Mrs. Shirley Polonsky, (in costume, above) wife of Daly City Councilman Albert E. Polonsky, has been given one of the two main roles in a Bay Area production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

She'll play the part of the queen who turns into a witch.

The musical production, under the auspices of the Council Amateur Theatre Service of the Council of Jewish Women, will be presented before handicapped children throughout the Bay Area.

The productions are previewed publicly only at the beginning of the season, according to Mrs. Rueben Gilbert, director of the play.

A public performance will be held Monday evening, March 23, at the A. P. Giannini Junior High School Auditorium in San Francisco.

A matinee performance is scheduled Tuesday, March 24, at 2 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Other North County residents appearing in the production are Elaine Begun, Barbara Casavan, Ann DelMonte, Lucille Greiff, Pauline Goodstein, Rose Greenspun, Gladys Jonah, Marjorie Karp, Doris Kavich, Rita Kaplan, Ruth Levin, Marcia Meister, Flora Nufeld, Bea Rubin, Arlene Steinberg, and Barbara Wachter.

Working behind the scenes are Ethel Cohen, Cally Cohen, Sylvia Cohen, Claire Godfrey and Rochelle Mages.

Gym Floor Is Damaged

Vandals caused an estimated $1,500 worth of damage to the floor of the War Memorial Community Center gymnasium in Daly City last week when they set off a sprinkler head by holding matches under it.

The sprinkler head, located in an off-limits area, has been disconnected, Recreation Department head Charles Vincent said.

The sprinkler system went off and sent streams of water onto the gym floor, causing it to buckle. Vincent has closed the gym until repairs can be made.

Two basketball tournaments were switched to other locations because of the damage.

A DeMolay tournament was played in the Jefferson High School gymnasium and the Tri-City Recreation League tournament was held in the Westmoor High School gymnasium.

Rev. Mullen Dies at 58

Funeral services were conducted yesterday for the Rev. Dennis J. Mullen, 58, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica since it was built 10 years ago, who died Thursday in St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

A native of Casa Grande, Ariz., Father Mullen came to San Francisco as a boy.

He attended St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park and after his ordination in San Francisco, served in Half Moon Bay before joining the Pacifica church.

He is survived by four brothers, Thomas, Jeremiah, Emmett and Francis Mullen.

The funeral services were held in the Church of Good Shepherd. A recitation of the rosary was Monday night.

Filing Papers Due Friday

Charles Carter, a resident of the unincorporated Skyline area near Half Moon Bay, last week became the first candidate to file nomination papers for the Fifth Supervisoral District of San Mateo County, according to County Clerk John Bruning.

Three other persons have taken out nomination papers and have until 5 p.m. Friday to file them. They are former Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, Pacifica Councilwoman Mrs. Jean Fassler and Half Moon Bay resident Hughes M. Blowers.

In the 27th Assembly District, three persons have taken out nomination papers. They are Democratic incumbent Leo Ryan and Republicans Andrew Byrd of Burlingame and Fred Ruhland of Broadmoor. Only Ruhland has filed his papers.

opment is expected in 7 to 10 years.

Commissioner Richard Dwyer expressed the hope that perhaps a master plan should be approved for the territory and the zoning of each area could be accomplished as it is needed.

"This would eliminate future applications for change of the present zoning plan," he said.

City Engineer William Chapman and Planning Technician Calvin Malone commented upon several instances of "unclassified" areas in the Westlake region as a result of zoning only portions at a time.

Schulhauser said that zoning all the territory at one time would give Suburban Realty an advantage in obtaining financing, tenants for the shopping center and data to support engineering planning for the design of utilities.

Zoning Bid Is Rejected

A hotly contested proposal to rezone the historic Sanchez Adobe area in Pacifica was turned down by the Pacifica City Council last week. The vote was 3-2.

The proposal would have permitted the construction of two gasoline stations and a neighborhood shopping center.

The Pacifica Planning Commission earlier had rejected the rezoning application, presented by developer James Telegan.

A number of residents appeared at the council meeting to speak both in behalf of and against the application.

Voting against the proposal, embodied in two applications, were Councilmen Fred Ballew, Jean Fassler and Harold Minshew. In favor of the move were Mayor Harold Feyge and Councilman George Mason.

The Daly City Department of Recreation has released this schedule of hours for playgrounds during the Easter vacation:

They will be closed Good Friday, and open Saturday, March 28.

The War Memorial Community Center will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday next week. It will be closed Good Friday from noon to 3 p.m.

The playgrounds will be open from noon to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday. They will be closed Good Friday and open March 28 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Teachers Get Salary Hike

New pay schedules for teachers and other South San Francisco school district employes were approved by district trustees last night in a session which lasted until 1 a.m today.

The pay hikes will cost district taxpayers another 14 cents per $100 assessed valuation, it was reported.

According to the new pay plan, beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree will get $5,400 per year, or about $104 per week.

A teacher with some service and 75 units of college graduate work can earn $10,760 per year, or $207 per week.

nologist from Portola Valley, were opposed.

Mrs. Barrett outpolled San Carlos Attorney I. R. Goodman, 65-29, in a Twenty-sixth Assembly District contest.

Graham, a 40-year-old attorney from Atherton, will run against Republican State Senator Richard J. Dolwig in November. Graham was the top votegetter at the convention, polling 129 ballots.

Approval of the endorsing convention aids candidates financially and helps them organize support from members of county Democratic clubs.

The convention, which was under chairmanship of Anthony Governale of Millbrae, adopted a resolution supporting State Controller Alan Cranston in his campaign for the U.S. Senate seat of ailing Democrat Clair Engle.

In a brief convention appearance, Cranston promised to base his campaign on the issues of employment, equal opportunities and disarmament.

The special resolution for him was passed after he and his wife left the auditorium to the thundering applause of delegates.

Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Los Angeles, addressed a morning session of the convention and announced support for Cranston's candidacy.

The congressman was a candidate in the Senate race until the California Democratic Council endorsed Cranston last month in Long Beach.

The delegates wound up Saturday's session by adopting six resolutions.

They backed the College of San Mateo bond issue, urged local communities to establish human relations commissions, and suggested that county supervisors be determined according to the number of votes canvassed in the districts they represent.

A fourth resolution, to eliminate racial imbalance in schools, was passed after discussion.

As amended it allows children to attend schools of their choice in their district, providing that the transfers do not lead to de facto segregation.

The last two resolutions oppose the anti-Rumford Housing Act initiative and support school unification.

An Unruffled Bandit

D.C. Robbery Nets $5,290

A neatly dressed bandit, posing as a salesman, held up Val's Redwood Room Restaurant at 89th Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City Monday morning and escaped with $4,290 in cash and $1,000 in checks.

The restaurant owner, Valentine J. Connolly, 46, of Half Moon Bay, told Daly City Patrolman John Van Otten that the robber behaved very politely and spoke in a calm, well-modulated voice throughout the hold-up.

He said the bandit was in his early thirties, about 6-1 in height and wore a brown gabardine suit, brown tie, white shirt and brown felt hat. The robber carried a .38 caliber revolver, he added.

Before leaving, the bandit herded Connolly, his son, Valentine Jr., his sister, Ann Loretta Corradi of 1510 Flores Drive, Pacifica, and a dishwasher, Augustine Coran of San Francisco, into an upstairs rest room and barricaded the door, investigators said.

Police reconstructed this chain of events:

The bandit entered the restaurant about 9 a.m. and posing as a salesman, calmly asked the owner's son: "Where is the boss?"

The youth directed the man to the kitchen where Connolly was cooking. Brandishing the revolver, the bandit then herded the owner, his son and sister and the dishwasher into the bar area.

There, he emptied the contents of the cash register. After also removing the contents of the wallets of the three men, the robber emptied two bank bags kept in an upstairs office.

He placed all of the loot into a light tan attache case.

Then, he tried to herd his four captives into a walk-in freezer but was talked out of this move by the owner.

After ordering the four into the upstairs rest room and barricading it, the bandit left.

Strategy Conference

SERVICE SOUGHT

Citizens' Bus Group Formed

A citizen's committee was formed in Daly City Monday night to work toward bringing buses from the San Francisco Municipal Railway System (Muni) into Daly City.

A spokesman for the group, Mrs. Albert Brawley of 217 Bellevue Avenue, commented:

"A number of people from the Southern Hills and Crocker-Pershing areas have joined together to see what transportation possibilities exist for the city.

"Our people already have petitions out to gather support for our efforts. We have no public transportation at all and we are willing to do whatever we can to support the city's efforts to solve the problem."

At a meeting of the Daly City Council last week, Councilman Francis Pacelli reported that Daly City may receive bus service from Muni if a cost study of such service proves favorable.

Pacelli is chairman of the council's transportation committee.

He and Councilman Albert Polonsky, a member of the committee, met with the citizen's group Monday night at Daly City Hall.

In addition to Mrs. Brawley, the citizens' group includes Mrs. Howard Heffron, Mrs. Pat Corvino, Mrs. James Howe Jr., Julius Castelan, Mrs. Enzo Fanucchi, Mrs. Margaret Becker, Mrs. James Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. White.

Last week, Pacelli, Polonsky and Daly City Manager Edward Frank met with Robert Kirkwood, head of the Public Utilities Commission and Vernon Anderson, manager of the Muni lines, to discuss the possibility of extending the system into Daly City.

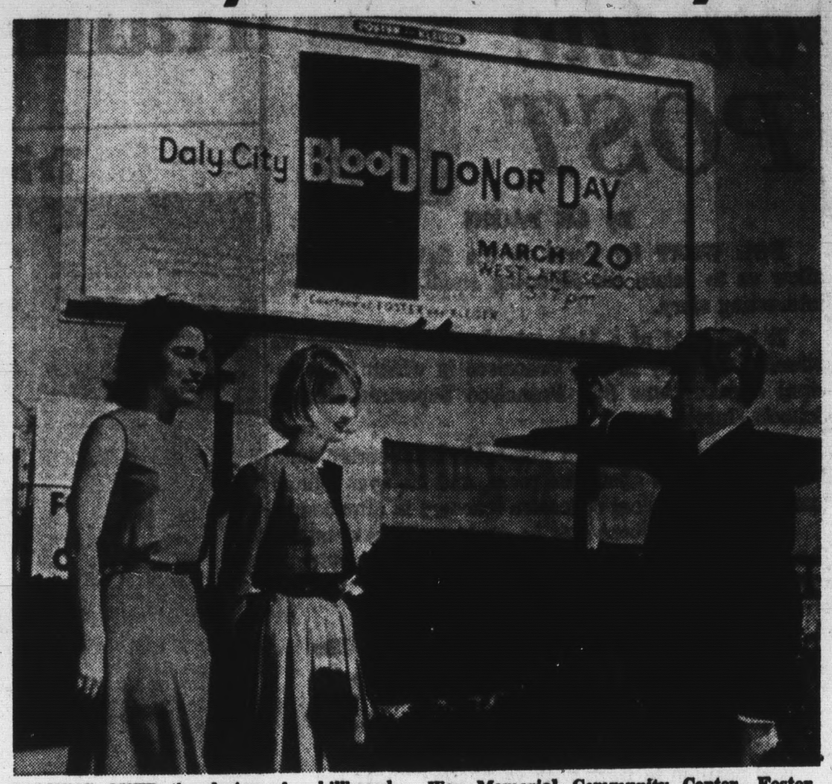
Friday Is Blood Bank Day



TALKING OVER the design of a billboard advertising Blood Donor Day Friday in Daly City are left to right, Miss Daly City Claudia Smith, Westmoor student Mary Jane Putz, and Lewis Lent, chairman of the Daly City Rotary Club-sponsored drive. Miss Putz designed the poster located adjacent to the War Memorial Community Center. Foster Klieser Company donated space to the drive. Donors will be received from 3 to 7 p.m. at the Westlake School on Fieldcrest. Lent reminds donors not to eat four hours prior to donating.

Students to Attend Meet

Twelve Westmoor High School students will attend a symposium at the University of California Medical Center Saturday and Sunday.

They will discuss the theme: "The Uncertain Quest."

Katerina Kellings of 205 Palmcrest Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that she had lost her purse, containing miscellaneous papers.

He Didn't Hesitate

Ray Howard, a sixth-grade student at Fernando Rivera School in Daly City, didn't hesitate a homent the other day when a 3-year-old boy darted into the street ahead of his mother.

A safety patrol guard at Glenwood Avenue and Lake Merced Boulevard, Ray dashed into the street and brought the child back to the sidewalk — just as an auto turned into the path of the child.

Witnesses said that Ray's quick thinking probably saved the youngster from seious injury.

The student lives at 187 Hillcrest Drive, Daly City.

Reimburse Plan Aired

A new policy in which city employees will be reimbursed for outside training courses that relate to their jobs has been approved by the Pacifica Personnel Board and will be referred to City Council.

Under the proposed plan, the city would pay a portion of the cost of tuition and books up to a maximum of $100 each year per employee.

In the past, the compensation procedure has varied from department to department. Most affected by the new policy would be professional staff, police, firemen, engineering, planning and supervisory personnel.

Law Officers In Middle of Racial Battle

San Mateo County's law enforcement officials said Saturday that they are the ones caught in the middle in humane relations problems that the community has failed to solve.

Speaking at the second annual humane relations seminar at Ravenswood High School in East Palo Alto sponsored by the San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association, Redwood City Police Chief William Faulstich said the roll of the police officer admittedly is a difficult one.

And Undersheriff Wesley Pomeroy said that responsible leadership of civil rights demonstrations would go far toward alleviating the problem.

Faulstich noted that disrespect for authority can become outright defiance. The police officer, faced with human relations problems but who still absorbed some of the antipathy towards minority groups because he himself belong to a group, still must not let his private views interfere with his duties.

The police department is the final step in settling human relations problems that the community has not, he said, with the result isolated incidents often put police on the spot. Officers must take care in these types of problems, he went on.

Selection of officers by nationality to handle law enforcement for certain racial groups can result in a double standard for police and can cause far more harm than good, he asserted.

It has worked, but the danger is there, he added. He said that never have the police in this area failed to discharge their responsibilities.

Edward Becks, of the East Palo Alto NAACP, startled the large gathering by charging that law enforcement organizations are part of the "white power structure" and has worked for it through attitudes.

Pacifica Car Hits House

A Pacifica woman was injured early Friday morning when she lost control of her car while driving down Crespi Drive, causing the vehicle to crash into the home of a sleeping family, Pacifica police reported.

Officers said the auto, driven by Faye E. Mendez, 30, 55 San Jose Avenue, jumped a curb, skidded about 25 feet into the corner of a home occupied by the James R. Austin family at 875 Crespi Drive, bounced off and smashed into Austin's parked car.

Officers said she was taken to Peninsula Hospital with a possible fractured leg.

FOR WHAT its worth to the field of athletics, allow us to relate the following small, but we hope, interesting story.

It happened at a high school athletic banquet we attended recently in San Francisco in which the principal speaker was San Francisco Superintendent of Schools Harold Spears.

Toward the end of an otherwise lighthearted talk, Dr. Spears gazed about the room, and his eyes lighted upon several physical education teachers in attendance.

He then told about how he could never understand the philosophy of the people who opposed non-academic majors—such as physical education men—as administrators.

"I've always felt," said Spears (and, like all good reporters not having taken notes, we hope our memory can do justice to the good man's rhetoric), "that, more than any other teacher, the physical education man is in a real position to work with youngsters under the full gamut of emotions, and is therefore generally very able and very qualified to understand the adolescent. I see no reason why PE teachers shouldn't make good administrators and they almost always have."

This was, we feel, a very significant statement in behalf of the importance of sports—whether or not your faithful reporter got it verbatim or more-or-less.

Next time you look around you, stop to realize how many of our educational administrators are ex-physical education men.

In the Jefferson Union High School District alone, without thinking too hard about it, we can click off the names of Lou Martin (principal of adult educaton), John Ivan (director of instruction and former Cal baseball player), Nap Triplett (dean of boys at Jefferson), Ernie Ribera and Bob Watt (principal and assistant principal, respectively, at Oceana), Floyd Gonella (dean of boys at Terra Nova), and Glenn South (principal at Westmoor).

Of course, this whole subject, the importance of sports and the people who deal in them, could run into several columns if it were carried to a logical conclusion.

We could go into Olympic ideals, all of the military academies and how Eisenhower once tackled Jim Thorpe, the playing fields of Eton, the economic importance of sports in this country, and all of the other obvious old saws.

But for now, we're willing to stand on what Dr. Spears said. The importance of sports in our culture is, paradoxically, so apparent that it's often taken for granted, and it is relevant, we feel, to restate it every once in a while.

WE FEEL we must throw a laurel wreath to certain members of the Terra Nova faculty to commend truly imaginative minds.

Seems these fellas, in the interests of physical fitness, relaxation, feelings for the old glories, and to get away from their wives for an evening, decided not long ago to form a basketball team and enter it in the Pacifica Adult Basketball League, a loop which requires only that all participants be 25 years of age or older (a category in which all TN aspirants eminently qualified).

This was all very well, but they needed a name. So after a week of pondering, they came up with—are you ready now—The Terra Nova Faculty.

Now that's a name.

But, after all, what's in a name? Approximately this same team has yet to be beaten by the Tiger varsity in the annual faculty-varsity game (which is mainly how they got this idea to enter into more constant competition), and last time we looked, they hadn't been beaten by any adults in Pacifica, either.

Who's on this fast rising team?

Gene McKamey (football coach, social studies), Rawlin Trimble (shop teacher, swimming coach), Roger Miller (wrestling, baseball coach), Van Van Buren (reading teacher, assistant football and basketball coach), Al Figone (assistant football and baseball coach, social studies, math), Don Delbon (assistant basketball coach, social studies), Bob Ceregoli (social studies) and Bob Baird (student teaching in PE).

AN ODD AND END:

This writer's wife, upon seeing Joe DiMaggio in person for the first time while dinng at the Clipper's restaurant recently, said: "Until now, I could never see what Marilyn Monroe saw in him. Why, he's actually handsome!"

In the interest of our narcissistic complex, we prefer she'd used the term "very distinguished looking," but then we guess that wasn't the first time the sudden appearance of Joe DiMaggio beat a good man down—like American League pitchers of 15 to 20 years ago.

WILD THINGS we've been thinking of:

A full-fledged prep soccer league in this district . . . an exhibition match between a judo expert and a good amateur wrestler (the recreation department's Ed Tomasello was a fine college wrestler and regularly wins judo tournaments, but isn't clever enough, unfortunately, to fight himself) . . . when will they get around to offering baseball bonus babies managerships? . . . swap Vic Morabito for Charley Finley, so that San Francisco and Kansas City sports fans will then appreciate more what they had?

Daly City All-Stars Win Title

Daly City All-Star players dominated the first anual Tri-City Basketball Tournament, played in Westmoor High School Saturday. Teams from South San Francisco and Pacifica also competed.

The tournament was a joint effort of the Daly City, Pacifica and South San Francisco departments of recreation.

Daly City started the tournament by making a clean sweep in the fifth grade contest with Pacifica — then rolled the rest of the way in the other grade divisions to take the title.

At the conclusion of the tournament, Tony Giammona, coach of the NPL Champion Rams and named Coach of the Year last week by the Post-Times, presented the tournament to Bobby Nolan, who represented all the Daly City All-Stars.

The trophy will remain at the Daly City Department of Recreation until next year's tournament.

Tiger Nine Is Defeated

Aragon High School found a way to score runs without hits Friday afternoon on their own field.

Outhitting Terra Nova by a slim 7-4 margin, the Dons took advantage of erratic control on the part of Tiger pitchers to gain a 13-5 practice victory.

After leaping to a 7-0 advantage after three innings, the winners scored four more in the fourth without the aid of a single hit as the loser's mound staff contributed seven straigh walks.

AN EASY VICTORY

Bulldogs' Spikes In 91-45 Victory

The College of San Mateo track team is becoming more and more fond of its spanking new oval.

As a matter of fact, coach Berny Wagner will have a hard time tearing the Bulldogs away from it for the remainder of the Golden Gate Conference season.

The Mateans developed their deep affinity for the College Heights turf Friday when they rolled out to a 91-45 GGC victory over San Jose City College.

It was the Bulldogs' initial GGC meet and also their first dual meet win of the 1964 season, giving them a 1-1-1 record to date.

"We won primarily on our depth," said Wagner. "We finally hit our stride," he added.

The San Jose City squad won seven first places out of the 16 events, but could gain no sweeps.

CSM, on the other hand, swept the shot put, the mile run, the two-mile run, the discus and the pole vault.

On individual performances, Wagner lauded the efforts of Marcel Hetu. The former Hillsdale High School prep was a double winner, taking the 880 run and the two-mile run.

The lithe distance runner traversed the 880 in 1:59.0 and outdistanced his teammates in the two-mile run with a 9:51.5 timing.

Ted Winfield, CSM's phenominal high jumper and one of the top ranked JC performers in the nation, could "only" clear the bar at 6-5 Friday.

However, the height was still one of the "high" points of the day and good enough for first place.

John Taylor turned in the best CSM shot-put mark in two years when he pushed the sphere 47-1¾.

It was a good afternoon for both teams as they broke seven dual meet records and tied two more. The Bulldogs led the mark-smashing parade with five new records. San Jose established two of the marks and each team tied one.

Serra Tops Westmoor

Mongillo had previously tied the game up, 4-4, when he doubled, chasing in two runs.

Jefferson Defeated by Burlingame

Burlingame High School's baseballing Panthers, a "down team" for some time in the MPL, may be getting set to surprise some people in this year's title chase.

Starting only one senior, pitcher Don Lembi, the Cats clawed Jefferson High with 11 hits Friday afternoon on Jefferson's diamond to defeat the host nine 8-4.

Lembi, Terry Roundy and Chris White all produced doubles good for two RBI's to lead the onslaught.

Seniors Dave Gurll and 1963 all league left-fielder Rich Hill were side-lined for this one to make for the preponderance of underclassmen.

Colts Bombard Hillsdale, 9-2

El Camino High School served notice yesterday that it is a Peninsula baseball power to be reckoned with as the Colts defeated Hillsdale, 9-2, on the loser's diamond.

Coach Harry Pitkoff's Colts' 1964 season opener was highlighted by the pitching of Mark Avelar and the fielding of Brian Cute.

Steve Price collected the only extra base hit of the game when he led off the Colts' six-run fifth-inning rally with a double.

MASON ON STAR SQUAD

Westmoor Is Ousted, but Plays Tough

By RON REID

As nearly everone predicted, Westmoor High School was eliminated from the recently-concluded Peninsula Basketball Tournament after its first two games.

But not before the Rams had thrilled the Stanford Pavilion crowd with some of the tourney's most exciting moments and not until they had sent their fans home with high hopes for next year.

For the second year in succession, the North Peninsula League champions opened the tournament in a narrow defeat to a surprised and heavily-favored opponent. The Rams were nipped by Blackford, 62-60, despite a strong second-half rally that nearly upset the San Jose entrant. A year ago, Westmoor almost pulled off the biggest upset of the season before bowing in a 65-57 clash with St. Elizabeth, which went on to win the tourney championship.

On Friday, the Rams went down to their second loss in a reversal of form against Los Altos.

Westmoor's 32-29 halftime lead was buried under a 36-point second half barrage that ended in a 65-54 Los Altos victory.

But despite the losses, the Rams saw their leading scorer, Jim Mason, named to the 10-man all-tournament team after the dead-eye forward nearly broke the tourney's single game scoring record.

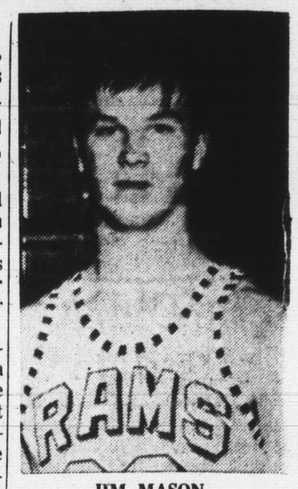
Mason, who scored 15 points in the Ram opener, nearly tore the net off the basket in the second game, hitting 11 out of 15 field goal attempts and five of seven free throws for 27 points.

Press box observers who watched Mason's sensational performance had expected the Ram star to easily break the tourney record of 30 points.

But with defeat assured, Giammona cleared his bench and took Mason out of the game in order to let his substitutes get in a few seconds of playing time.

Giammona knew before the tourney began that his charges were headed for their roughest assignment of the year, no matter whom they drew. And the chief reason for the Rams' dilemma was the team's lack of height.

And Giammona's fears proved all too true as the Rams were out-rebounded, 50-34, by Blackford and 58-40 by Los Altos.



JIM MASON
All-Star Pick

Against Blackford, the team which finished third in the tourney behind Bishop O'Dowd and Gilroy, Westmoor got off to a slow start and trailed by 14 points midway through the final period.

But then Mike Hannigan, Mason, and John Price started a scoring blitz that had Blackford reeling. Two straight field goals by Price cut the score to 58-52 with two and a half minutes to play, and Price and Donavan dumped in a two-pointer each in the last 20 seconds to cut the score to its eventual margin before time ran out.

Despite the Rams' fate in this season's tournament, Westmoor fans had an optimistic outlook on next year's team.

Price, Mason and center Jerry Donavan will all be back next season, giving Giammona a veteran nucleus to build another tourney contender around.

Jeff Banks on Power in NPL Race

Indians' 2 Top Hitters Will Return

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of interviews with North Peninsula League baseball coaches on how their teams are shaping up for the season ahead.)

By RON BATES

A STRONG BAT, wielded by three, possibly four, Indians may be the factor that could power Jefferson to the top of the North Peninsula Baseball League this season.

Coach Steve Mezzera, going into his eighth season at the helm of the Indian club, has the two top hitters from last year's team and two of the brightest hitting prospects from Jefferson's frosh-soph team to help him.

The two varsity veterans, both all-NPL selections last year, are seniors Mike Gutierrez and Jerry Sullivan.

Gutierrez, a combination pitcher-outfielder, hit .400 in 25 times at bat last year to tie Westmoor's Dave Williams for third in the league's batting crown race.

Sullivan, another pitcher-outfielder, was close behind with a .345 average. The 6-4 senior was also credited with three of Jefferson's five wins in league competition.

THE TWO PLAYERS up from the frosh-soph team that Mezzera is banking on are juniors Tolio Soliata and Tom Snodgrass.

Soliata, Mezzera said, is capable of losing the ball when he gets a solid swing at it. The powerful junior may also become the team's number one pitcher. He is the only lefthander on the pitching staff and lefthanders, Mezzera said, seem to be more effective in the NPL.

Soliata was selected to the all-NPL lightweight squad as a pitcher. He also will see action at first base or in the outfield, Mezzera said.

SNODGRASS has the edge on Soliata for the first base position because of his defensive ability.

"All four of these guys are power hitters," Mezzera said. "If we get some help from the others, we'll be okay."

Mezzera knows all the runs his hitters drive in will be for naught if the other team can do the same. A heavy load will fall on the pitchers.

In addition to Soliata, Sullivan and Gutierrez, the coach has veterans Paul Howe and Don Fisicaro to call on. More help may come from John Dorris, a transfer student from Sacred Heart.

IF THE OPPOSING hitters do get hold of the ball, the Indians should be okay.

"We have a strong defensive outfield," Mezzera said, "with Gutierrez, Sullivan and veteran Bob Rankin."

Rankin also has the potential to be a good hitter, the coach added.

Senior Gary Mendoza also will be seeing a lot of action in the outfield. Mendoza made the varsity at Westmoor as a sophomore and had a good year. He was ruled ineligible last year.

"He's capable of playing good ball," Mezzera noted.

The Indian infield is shaky though, he added. The team is particularly weak on the double play and he hopes the rough spots can be smoothed over as the club gets more experience.

ONE OF the biggest "ifs" is at shortstop where veteran Al Stoller is stationed. Stoller hit only .170 last year.

"He could make the difference," Mezzera said. "He handles the key infield plays."

At catcher will be letterman Al Banfield. He'll be backed up by junior Jim Crane.

The Indians are stronger at second where sophomore Pete Berry appears to be getting the starting nod. The Jefferson coaching staff thinks Berry, an all-NPL lightweight selection, can hold the varsity job.

"He's trying hard to make the adjustment, and if he can he'll be a good ballplayer," Mezzera said.

If he doesn't make the adjustment, either Roy Chappari or Frank King will move into the slot.

At third is junior Ron Sawyer, up from the frosh-soph team.

Mezzera believes his team will always be a potential threat if it can keep within striking distance of the leaders.

The Indians will start right under the gun by taking on the champion South San Francisco Warriors in the league opener April 17 at Marchbanks Park.

"If we beat them," Mezzera said, "we'll be off and running."

A 0-3 RECORD

CSM Nine Loses Two to San Jose

College of San Mateo's baseball Bulldogs entered play this week on the far edge of the ledger with a 0-3 mark.

The Bulldogs lost a doubleheader to the Jaguars of San Jose City College Saturday, 6-1 and 3-2. CSM was scheduled to play Contra Costa yesterday afternoon.

Pitcher Sam Williams allowed the Bulldogs only one run, in the first inning of the first game with San Jose.

The big lefthander appeared to be weak from the start, granting free bases to Dennis Scott and Neil McNevin.

John Morris singled over second, loading the bases, but was forced out at second when Barry Krohn grounded to deep short, scoring Scott from third. Williams settled down thereafter, and prevented CSM from threatening again.

The Jaguars lumped their runs into two innings, the third and the fifth. John Bessa walked and made it all the way to third on wild pitches.

He scurried home when catcher Jim Yancey attempted a pick-off play at second.

Later, with the bases loaded, centerfielder Jim Gamma stepped up and knocked a triple into left-center, pushing three runs across the plate to put the score at 4-1.

In the fifth, Greg Mueller got himself an RBI by driving home Pat Cavataio, who had walked. Mueller then scored easily on a long triple by teammate Dave Gonsalves, assuring the 6-1 Jaguar victory.

The second game was close, and might have gone either way in the last inning.

NPL Relays Scheduled

The North Peninsula League track season gets under way this week with the North Peninsula League relays that will be held at El Camino High School Friday afternoon.

Westmoor and Terra Nova are expected to be the two top contenders for meet honors among the six league schools entered in the competition.

Consolation play will be scheduled with trophies awarded to the first and second place teams in the winners bracket and to the winner of the consolation bracket.

All games will be played at Westmoor High School, starting at 7 p.m. Further information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department at PL 5-0850.

Announced by Pacifica's chairmen of the 1964 Cancer Crusade, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Uhrig of 1483 Serra Drive, the tournament will offer five trophies in both men's and women's divisions. The awards are being donated through Awards Unlimited.

The tournament is open to all bowlers on a handicap basis of two-thirds to 200 for men and 80 per cent for women.

Westmoor Nine Bows

Serra's Steve Mongillo scored from second base on an overthrow from right field in the sixth inning to give the Padres a 5-4 win over Westmoor at Fitzgerald Field Friday.

Mongillo had previously tied the game up, 4 to 4, when he doubled, chasing in two runs.

All of Serra's four runs in the sixth frame came after there were two outs. Bob Pindroh started off the rally with a single.

Mike Noonan, who came on to pitch in the fifth inning, was credited with the win.

Colt Netters Bow to Dons

Aragon's superior tennis experience was the telling factor Friday afternoon at El Camino as the Don netmen overwhelmed the host contingent 5-2.

Only third singles player Ed Garner and the first doubles team of John Lowe and Jack Trouty were able to come up with victories for the Colts against their more polished opponents.

Box yourself in.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon looks like a box because it's built like a box.

It lets you store the most possible stuff in the least possible space.

(The fact is, the VW carries more than the biggest regular wagons, and it's 4 feet shorter.)

The VW's floor plan looks like any nice little room, except it has 8 chairs, 21 windows, 5 doors and a high ceiling.

You can't see the engine because it's in the back, out of the way.

(If you aren't the curious type, you may never see the engine. No reason to. It rarely uses oil between changes. And it's air-cooled, so there's no water or antifreeze.)

But the real fun comes when you climb into the box and get behind the wheel.

Ahead of you, there's nothing but view; it's head and shoulders above other cars.

Behind you, there's nothing but space. It looks a mile long, but it's really only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan.

So you can park it like the Sedan.

And like the Sedan, you get a lot of extras (fresh-air heater/defroster, 4-speed stick shift, etc.) at no extra cost.

Volkswagen's put everything they could think of into it. So will you.

COMMENT

A Genuinely Crucial Vote

A GENUINELY crucial election faces the voters of the San Mateo Junior College District next Tuesday.

That is the day on which they will decide whether all the children in our primary and secondary schools, and the thousands of pre-school toddlers who will enter those schools in the next few years, shall continue to have the same opportunity for higher education that has been offered up to now.

This is the bare fact and the truth of what next Tuesday's election will mean.

A "Yes" vote on the $12.8-million Junior College District bond election will accord all these young people the chance for higher education that is now the high and proud standard in the county.

A "No" vote will slam college doors in the faces of half of them, and an even greater proportion of future school children will be denied a chance for higher education a decade hence.

The decision each voter must make is as simple as that.

PASSAGE OF the bond issue will allow utilization of the already procurred college campus sites in the northern and southern portions of the county, permit the procuring of another site on the San Mateo County coastside and provide for expansion of the facilities at the present college to meet interim needs that are already pressing.

Failure to pass this bond issue will create an impossible, chaotic situation that will cripple our whole concept of equal education for every student. It will affect not only thousands of children now in school, it will also deny their parents the educational equality for their children that they have the right to expect and for which they have paid and continue to pay.

The issue is not a matter of education alone but also of morality, justice and responsible citizenship.

The Post unreservedly feels that it is the duty of every good and responsible citizen of the district to vote "Yes" on this bond issue next Tuesday. The outcome is vital.

D. C. Blood Bank Day Needs Your Support

THIS FRIDAY marks nearly a decade since Daly City first began observance of its annual Blood Bank Day.

Instituted by the Daly City Rotary Club, the City of Daly City and the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank, Blood Bank Day has become a tradition.

Unfortunately, one year's successes do not guarantee an equally heartening performance the following year.

While 1962's drive was moderately successful, last year a combination of bad weather and apathy saw the city-wide drive's total donations dwindle to 50 pints of blood.

This, for a city that now numbers 57,000 inhabitants, was a pitiful showing—particularly when you consider the hundreds of man hours of volunteer labor that went in to advance preparations for the one-day effort.

A PINT OF BLOOD donated can, of course, save a life.

A pint of blood can also be set aside in reserve for your favorite club or community organization, or to assist an individual whose illness may require prolonged use of donor blood.

A pint of blood can also be $22.50. This is the amount of money an individual can save himself, his friends or his organizations by donating one pint of blood to be set aside in reserve and used when need arises.

The physical process of donating a pint of blood takes about 15 minutes from entering to leaving the mobile blood bank.

You can't find a more worthwhile way to spend 15 minutes of your day.

We urge all eligible donors in the community to "roll up your sleeves" as one and give a quarter-hour of your time to one of Daly City's most deserving campaigns.

Miss Daly City of 1954

JANET JACKSON was Daly City's first beauty queen when the first Miss Daly City contest was held in 1954. Since then, she has served as a girl Friday to Fred Martin, Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce official who directs the contest each year. Janet won her crown at the age of 15 while she was a student at Jefferson High School. She was chosen over 17 other girls — a record number of entries that has yet to be broken. For winning, she was given a bathing suit. This year's winner will receive more than $1,000 in gifts and prizes from Daly City merchants. Six years ago, Janet married Wally Watson, a San Francisco policeman. They are the parents of a daughter, Sandra Laura, 5, and live in San Francisco.

Everybody's Hungry Again

Don Miller

THAT INCREASED babble of voices you hear wafting out of cafeterias in the Laguna Salada School District these past few weeks didn't just happen. It was plotted.

Not with any dark and clandestine motive involved, mind you, but simply with a dollars and cents objective.

Laguna Salada, like most districts in the state, always keeps a wary eye on its cafeteria program. It's supposed to be self-sustaining and by and large, it has been—but not to the degree the Board of Trustees would like.

That is, the money the cafeterias take in has little more than paid for food and wages. This is what's known as operating on a narrow margin and like anybody on a tightrope, the trustees didn't like the idea of slipping out of balance.

So, a little while back, the Laguna board appointed a citizens' committee to see if more interest could be generated in the program. Specifically, the committee was asked to apprise parents of what the school lunch program had to offer and to seek their suggestions.

Under the leadership of John Yohanan, committee chairman and Mrs. Lydia Cooper, the cafeteria program director, this group blanketed district homes with questionnaires sent to parents via their children.

The percentage of returns astounded the committee and district officials. Something like 70 to 80 per cent of the forms came back—all filled out and containing the parents' ideas on what a cafeteria program should offer.

It took the committee weeks to tabulate the questionnaires and put some of the recommendations into action.

★ ★ ★

WELL, THE UPSHOT of the whole business was a heartening report given the trustees not long ago. It was the cafeteria report for the month of January and it showed that the net gain for the district's cafeterias had amounted to a healthy $2,130.

This was the result, the report said, of three factors: (1) greater participation in the program by students, (2) an abundance of surplus protein goods from the government, and (3) the baking of some goodies by cafeteria personnel.

The report, as you could expect, elicited a chortle of glee from board members who directed the administration to send a letter of commendation to the citizens' committee and to cafeteria personnel.

Now, you ask, what is a school cafeteria doing making money? Particularly money to the pleasant tune of $2,130?

Well, Laguna Supt. Fred Lucas has a ready answer to that one.

Operating in the black, he points out, enables the district to fulfill its policy of not operating in the red. That's simple enough.

But operating substantially in the black enables the district to increase the quality and scope of its cafeteria program, keep the salaries of its cafeteria help competitive and build a reserve for those periods when students aren't hungry (if that ever happens!!) or when, for a variety of factors, school attendance is down.

★ ★ ★

THIS GREATER activity in Laguna's cafeterias, by the way, is being watched rather closely—and with a tinge of envy, we suspect—by officials of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Seems the district has been plagued by a cafeteria program that has somehow failed to interest enough of the youngsters to cease being brown-baggers and start being lunch-line regulars.

In fact, Schools Supt. Richard Foster last fall told the board of trustees that the district loses more than $10,000 each year on its cafeteria operation. But he salved this statement with the observation that a deficit cafeteria program is a perennial headache to any district.

Perennial headache, or not, Jefferson at that time decided to root out some aspirin and set up a citizens' committee to study its cafeterias. Bob Fizer was named to head the committee but subsequently was transferred by his employer out of the area and things ground to a halt.

However, late last month the study was given new life with the appointment of Mrs. Jack Mitchell of Broadmoor as its chairman.

The study is under way again and who knows, perhaps sometime soon the babble of voices in Jefferson cafeterias will drown out Laguna Salada.

RIB-TICKLER OF THE WEEK—Bill Goss, vice president of the College of San Mateo, was all business last week when he spoke to the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce about CSM's bond election Tuesday.

Well, almost all business. He couldn't resist a quote from Clark Kerr, chancellor of the University of California. Kerr, Goss said, once declared that there are only three problems on the college level:

"Athletics for the alumni, sex for the students and parking for the faculty."

Goss added that the only insoluble problem was parking.

You mean, they can solve the other two?

They're Off And Running

THE RACE for shopping center tenants is on!

The San Bruno City Council last week approved zoning for a $32-million regional shopping center north of San Bruno Avenue between Junipero Serra Boulevard and El Camino Real.

In doing so, the council joined South San Francisco's Westborough and Daly City's Serramonte developments in the race to grab off a good share of shoppers' money that is now going to Westlake, Hillsdale and Stonestown.

Conrad Reisch, attorney for Consolidated Lands Incorporated, summed it up in his argument for the zoning when he said:

"There will be only one regional center in the area. If Westborough and Serramonte beat us to the tenants, then the regional center won't be here (in San Bruno.)"

Reisch, who also is city attorney for Pacifica and Brisbane, said Consolidated would begin right away to approach prospective major tenants for the 70-acre center and secure letters of intent from them. Opening date of the center is expected in 1967.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO'S entry in the shopping center derby is a 60-acre facility near San Francisco is anticipating sales tax revenue of $230,000 annually from the development.

Westborough is being developed by the Callan Corporation.

Serramonte, formerly known as the Christen Ranch, is being developed by the Suburban Realty Company, a combine of the Crocker Land Company and Standard Builders.

Of the three shopping centers, this is the largest—an estimated 75 acres—and appears to have a prime location — at the intersection of two main traffic arteries, the Junipero Serra Freeway and an arterial connecting it with the coast freeway.

SERRAMONTE estimates its sales taxes will be even greater than Westborough — about $679,970 annually. This shopping center, according to planners, will be completely weather proofed with concourse open areas rather than malls. A station for rapid transit is planned there.

All three developers are planning ahead with so-called built-in customers. That is, located around the three shopping centers will be high rise apartments with units similar to the condominiums that have been selling in San Francisco.

As Reisch pointed out, though, whoever gets the lion's share of the tenants gets the bulk of the business. In other words, whoever gets there "the furstest with the mostest" gets the most.

TOWER APARTMENTS seem to be a touchy subject to some residents, especially when the tall building goes up in front or behind their homes. Not only does it cut down on their privacy but it also cuts down on such things as sunlight and views.

The people in the "top of the hill" area of Daly City have one of the most beautiful views in the Bay Area — a view that would be quite salable in the condominium type development being planned nowadays.

They seem to be fighting a losing battle for a number of reasons.

Prime among these is the fact more single family homes in that area are just not economically feasible. By the time the developer grades the propprty to build homes, he would have to sell them at a very high cost to make any profit.

Apartments, on the other hand, offer a better return for the investor's money

Residents in the St. Francis Heights area, wisely, are asking the planning commission and the city council to specify that any buildings planned have sufficient parking and will be aesthetically acceptable.

The character of the neighborhood, after all, will determine the character of the tenants who move in.

Peninsula Panorama

Let's All Hail The Lowly Egg

George Whitesell

THE PENINSULA is now well into that annual period when the lowly egg is king in these parts.

As ever, the faithful hens have stepped up production to meet the seasonal demand and there are eggs for all at very reasonable prices.

It is true that the hens may have had different ideas about their eggs and are the victims of a natural fraud, but this does not interfere with the traditional, noisy bragging as each egg is produced.

In earlier days the racket of all this self-congragulation by the triumphant hen population was loud on the Peninsula. Nowadays, however, we rarely hear a single "cluck" and that will likely be from a waitress.

Our modern hens have been pretty well automated.

They reside in wire "laying batteries" and each has her own separate quarters that are self-cleaning and provided with a continuous supply of laying mash and a private drinking fountain.

All the old girl has to do is to stay happy and lay her quota of eggs. She can sing as loudly and as much as she likes.

It is a far cry from the times when she had to put in a hard day's scratching around the barnyard, dodging hawks, and "sneaking" nests in the tall grass.

★ ★ ★

IT IS DIFFICULT to know whether the hens are happier in the modern egg factories, but we, the egg consumers, are getting better and cleaner eggs—and more of them.

Of course we are raising a generation of children who know only that eggs come from a neat carton sold from a refrigerated case down at the supermarket.

But, as they used to tell this department many years ago, "what you don't know won't hurt you."

To a goodly part of the present population eggs appear only on a plate—and that's a very good arrangement.

★ ★ ★

HOWEVER, some explanation is due for the small fry as we preapre to enter the yearly Easter egg orgy.

Most of them would be content with merely making a horrible mess in the kitchen with Easter egg dyes.

As you may have noticed, anything that involves being messy, and making a mess, has an irresistible appeal to the kids.

Later on, they find that life can contrive enough messes for them without cooking up their own.

But if you want to level with the little darlings about Easter eggs, these do have some meaning beyond fun in egg hunts and eating too much.

Although Easter is a Christian celebration, the use of eggs as symbols of new life runs back to ancient Persia.

When the eggs became a Christian symbol, coloring them red represented the blood of redemption. Dyeing them other colors has no especial significance, although some people have claimed other colors have other meanings.

That theory breaks down when you find a striped Easter egg.

★ ★ ★

WE HATE to say it, but from our personal observation the newest generation has a sophisticated idea of bypassing real eggs entirely. They don't care whether hen or egg came first.

Their interest attaches to chocolate and other types of candy eggs. Maximum stickiness seems to be a desirable quality and decoration secondary.

The loot of an Easter Egg hunt is reckoned on size, sweetness and gooey consistency.

Despite adult promptings, the fabled Easter Bunny gets little credit—these kids are hard to fool.

In time they will learn to value real eggs above the candy varieties and that a hearty plate of ham, or bacon and eggs is well deserving of its niche in American hearts.

They will learn, too, that the egg has a symbolism that goes beyond Easter.

They will learn that the difference between being called a "bad egg" or a "good egg" means a great deal.

Means as much, in fact, as it does in the real thing.

The Marquee

A Hit at Hillbarn

Barbara Bladen

HILLBARN LITTLE THEATRE has nothing to fear from of the Peninsula's proposed professional theatres if they inue to present such excellent shows as "Something About oldier" which is playing Friday and Saturday nights.

Although billed as a comedy-drama, there is dominant amatic emphasis relieved by comic punctuation with an rthy, army language flavor. It is adult fare and highly commended on that level.

Wayne Warren, a veteran of 11 years of acting at Hillbarn, played as many roles, if not more, than most professional York actors. As this play's irascible Sergeant Toat, barks gravel-voiced commands at the new recruits and ides most of the show's humor.

His every performance is strongly defined and projected assurance and style. Former G.I.'s in the audience will a big laugh from his uncompromising strictness to the book and his outspoken manner.

NEWCOMER to the Carlmont stage is Eugene Fracchia e young (17.667 years) idealist whose emotional struggle just to the service during World War II is at first hus and later heartbreaking. He gives a remarkably sensiand polished performance in the role briefly created on dway by Sal Mineo.

As the author, Mark Harris, exposes more of the 's personality, the play takes on a deeper meaning builds to a dramatic climax.

BOOKS

William Shakespeare. A Biography, by A. L. Rowse (Harper $6.95): It would take some uniquely original feature to draw interest to a new book about Shakespeare.

THIS AUTHOR claims his biography has them. Rowse, a scholar of Elizabethan history at All Souls College in Oxford, interprets the work of England's greatest playwright against the background of Shakespeare's life and the events of his time.

After exhaustive historical research, he develops a chronology which enables him to assign exact dates to most of the plays. (The dates of some major works, such as Midsummer Night's Dream, have never been accurately established.)

Most interesting are the author's theories on the Sonnets. He claims these are a running commentary on a love-triangle among the poet, his patron the Earl of Southampton, and the unnamed Dark Lady, who was mistress to both men.

Unfortunately, Rowse's scholarly thoroughness could make for tough chewing for most readers, and his self-assurance —"It (my approach) has enabled me to solve . . . and definitely, the problem of the Sonnets"—strikes in the craw.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

SINCE WE are sorta between holidays, St. Patrick's Day just passed and Easter is more than a week away, it seems like an opportune time to consider some entree ideas that are easy to prepare, inexpensive and very tasty.

The first of these recipies is a particular joy because you can keep all the ingredients on your pentry shelf. And on that day, which comes in all our lives, when the budget is low and time is short you can have this meal on the table in a jiffy.

QUICKNIC GRILL

1 can (12 ounces) pork luncheon meat, cut in 8 slices.
4 cooked potatoes, quartered, or 1 can (about 1 pound) white potatoes
2 fresh peaches, peeled and sliced, or 1 can (about 1 pound) sliced peaches, drained
2 Tablespoons brown sugar
One-eighth teaspoon allspice
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 Tablespoon cut tops of green onions or chives

Brown luncheon meat in large frying pan; overlap slices in pan to make room for potatoes opposite and peaches in center. Sprinkle meat and peaches with brown sugar and allspice; spoon mixture of mayonnaise, milk, dry mustard and onion tops over potatoes. Cover pan; cook over low heat five or six minutes until potatoes are hot.

If your family likes more meat, you might double the amount of meat. After all, any left-over meat can go very nicely in sandwiches the next day.

A DISH THAT is a great favorite with many people is cabbage rolls. This recipe is comparatively simple and easy to make.

CABBAGE ROLLS

4 pound head cabbage
1 pound ground meat
1 egg
1 teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon caraway seed (optional)
1 small onion, minced
½ cup precooked rice
2 cups water
2 cans tomato sauce

Place cabbage in cold water, rinse thoroughly to clean each leaf. Remove 13 or 14 leaves from the head and set aside. Shred remaining cabbage and place in 4½-quart kettle with two cups water. Mix beef with rice, egg, salt, pepper caraway seeds and onion. Place spoonful of mixture in center of each cabbage leaf. Roll up, tucking ends under.

Put rolls on top of shredded cabbage in kettle. Pour tomato sauce over this. (If desired a tablespoon of butter or margarine may be added for richness.) Bring to a boil. Cover and simmer two-and-a-half to three hours. Makes four generous servings.

I HAVE a friend who lives in San Francisco and her daughter attends Clarendon School. In April of 1963, the P-TA of that school put out a cook book called "Clarendon Cooks." My friend, Mrs. Hedi Wiegand of 392 Christopher Road, bought one of the books and was kind enough to let me borrow it. She had tried many of the recipes and especially liked this one for Sour Cream Apple Coffee Cake, which was submitted by Mrs. Jane Unger.

SOUR CREAM APPLE COFFEE CAKE

1 cup sugar
½ cup butter
2 eggs
½ pint sour cream
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup nuts chopped
1 cup sugar
3 teaspoons cinnamon
3 to 4 tart apples, sliced in 12ths. (that is, not too thin).

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs, sour cream, flour, baking powder, baking soda and vanilla. Mix well. Make mixture of sugar, cinnamon and nuts. Put half the batter in greased 11 by 14 pan. Sprinkle lightly with sugar mixture. Add remaining batter. Spread the sliced apples over entire top. Cover with remaining sugar mixture. The apples must be well covered with the sugar mixture or apples will dry up. Bake 40 to 50 minutes at 350-degrees.

Though the recipe doesn't mention it, you are supposed to sift the flour, baking soda and baking powder together—then add to the creamed mixture with the other ingredients.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

THE SOCIAL life of the North Peninsula area slowed only slightly last week, despite the huge number of people suffering from the many viruses and assorted children's diseases which seem to be making the rounds in most areas.

St. Patrick's Day was observed in glorious style yesterday by the guests attending the Taispeantas Faisean in the Crystal Ballroom of the Thunderbird Motel in Millbrae. The gay and very Gaelic affair was presented by the members of the Mercy Shield.

Green was, indeed, the color for the day and the decorations and much of the attire worn by the guests reflected the bright freshness of Ireland and a devotion to the patron saint of all Irishmen.

The glowing spring fashions were provided by the City of Paris in San Mateo and the commentary was delivered by fashion co-ordinator Lise Boissiere.

AFTER a long and discouraging wait the girls of Scout Troop 234 of Westlake held a court of awards Monday afternoon in the Fernando Rivera School.

Mrs. Kenneth Edwards, troop leader, and the girls have been preparing for the ceremony for some weeks now but the planning was finished and all was in readiness long before the time that merit badges arrive.

After the cookies were baked and the flag ceremony memorized the troop began a very worthwhile service project to supply crafts for the victims of Cystic Fibrosis in San Francisco. The girls have done a remarkable job of assembling coloring books and making paper dolls for the young shut-ins.

Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Monte Hill, Mrs. Justin Gross have been escorting the scouts on recent field trips and hope to be on hand when the girls have their first spring cook-out in San Bruno Park during the spring vacation.

UP AND about once more and eager to see her son play baseball with his scout troop is Mrs. Laurence Rogers. Mrs. Rogers has been unable to keep any appointments for more than a week because of a severe resperatory infection.

MRS. LIONELL FARBER and members of the Book Fair committee of the Friends of the Library have begun pricing the books already donated by local residents and are requesting that others planning to contribute literature do so in the near future.

"It is going to be a big job, sorting and pricing all the books and magazines, so we are starting now and will continue to meet regularly so we may keep up with the collection," Mrs. Farber said. Helping with the task are Mrs. Thomas Brewer, Mrs. Herbert Weiner, Mrs. Vinton Stratton, Mrs. Frank Specht, Mrs. U. R. Kendree and Mrs. Julian Cohn.

"We need all types of books, fiction, non-fiction, texts, and children's books," Mrs. Farber continued. "Magazines, such as National Geographics, which we can bundle in groups, are also acceptable."

Anyone wishing to donate books to the sale may leave them at one of the Daly City firehouses or may call Mrs. Farber, PL 5-5059, to make arrangements for the collection of the books.

The show, which is entitled, Fashions for Far Away Places, is under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Walters. Fashions will be by H. Liebes and cosmetics by Beauty Counsellor.

Mrs. Brugge, who besides modeling is also the reservations chairman, has announced that it is not too early to arrange for tickets to the luncheon and show which will be held in the Lake Merced Olympic Club on May 2. Arrangements for tickets may be made by calling Mrs. Brugge, PL 5-3261, or Hostess Chairman Mrs. Harry Smith, WY 2-1665 or Mrs. Brooks, WY 2-3951. According to Mrs. Fox, guests applying for tickets will be requested to make a tax deductable donation of $5.

RESIDENTS of South San Francisco may not be aware of the fact that the newly organized Intercity Club Council owes its beginnings to the imagination and foresight of a group of high school students and their devoted counsellor.

Students in the Political Action Club at South San Francisco High School, working with Charleen Smith, their faculty representative, conceived the idea and did all the initial spade work necessary for the council's formation. According to Christine Enberg, one of the students actively involved in the project and currently in charge of the publicity, the council has now voted the student group membership so that the students may continue to observe their brain child in action.

Attend Your Association Meetings, First Monday of Each Month

Next Meeting April 6, 8 P.M.

INTRODUCING A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Have you ever thought of your Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association as your good neighbor! In essence this is what the Organization strives to be.

It protects the value of your property by its enforcement of good maintenance throughout the area. It fights for your property rights all the way to the top if necessary. It acts as your voice in all that affects the affairs of your community and it offers you an opportunity to meet with it and formulate its policies.

The Association is vitally interested in you as a home owner and as a neighbor. The fine standards of this community are dependent upon your co-operation. Why not take advantage of all the Association has to offer—meet with us at Open Meetings the first Monday of each month, and let us introduce you to your Good Neighbor!

GARDENER'S TIPS

The days will be getting longer and warmer and March is the last month in which to prune deciduous shrubs and trees if you have delayed doing so; also a good month for transplanting.

Don't wait any longer to plant new roses and deciduous trees or shrubs — plant them now!

This is also the time to plant Tuberous Begonias and dahlia bulbs and be sure the soil is helped with plenty of leaf mold.

Another must for now — gladioli.

Don't plant all of the bulbs at one time—space planting at intervals thus insuring a constant bloom of color.

Your nursery is now well supplied with bedding plants such as Scabiosas or Mourning Brides (blue, pink or white), but if you are a "do-it-yourselfer," seeds of many late spring and summer blooming annuals and some perennials may be safely sown in open ground. Try planting some Salpiglossis seeds in open ground and be sure to thin out when six inches high. Another good cut flower is Gaillardia.

Wait until next month before cutting chrysanthemums, then cut tops off the old plants and plant in a little sand. They will root very easily and can then be planted in the garden wherever desired. By doing it this way you will eliminate rusty foliage.

Lawns need attention and this is the time!

Start in by raking the old lawn vigorously and working out the old, dead grass. Heavy, compact soil may be helped by perforating the ground to a depth of four or five inches and then brushing coarse sand into the holes.

If re-seeding is necessary in spots, rough up these areas and sprinkle with seed, cover with cheesecloth or burlap and water without removal of these protective coverings until the seeds have germinated and grass growth is assured.

When mowing, do not cut the grass too closely and be sure to feed the lawn with good commercial fertilizers, then water! water! water!

HOMEOWNERS' TIPS

Remember to tie all bundles of newspapers placed outside on your regular garbage collection day. Papers left loose outside can be blown throughout the neighborhood, creating a nuisance and detracting from the beauty of our properties.

HOMEOWNERS

A note of appreciation to the California Painting and Decorating Co. for their job in painting the bus shelters for our association. Now that the shelters have been restored, it is up to us as home owners to see that they are not vandalized again.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

This week I asked a number of adults if the voting age limit should be lowered from 21 to 18. Here's what they said:

Mary Miller: "I don't think it should be changed. I feel they need that much more knowledge to vote intelligently. They need that growing up period between 18 and 21. Kids get carried away as a group and are easily swayed. This can be dangerous to our country.

Beatrice Frizza: "It should stay at 21 years old because the average 18-year-old may have his own mind about some things. But do they have the ability to vote wisely? Twenty-one is the best age.

I have an 18-year-old and a 16-year-old. I feel they have a lot on the ball but not the maturity to vote. At 21, they have more responsibility."

Lois Sefalu: "It is an individual thing. I have known some 25-year-olds who have no brains or responsibility and I know some 17-year-olds who have both.

"Kids that age on the whole are emotionally influenced too easily to vote intelligently. It should remain at 21 years of age."

Phil McHale: "Why not at 18. They are eligible for the draft, they should be eligible to vote. Girls are of legal age at 18, so why not let the guys and girls of 18 vote.

"If a guy of 18 can loose his life at Vietnam or some other place, why shouldn't he have the right to vote? I'll bet half the guys who were killed at Vietnam were under 21 years of age.

"Yet, they were not old enough to vote. What about World War II? How many kids under 21 years of age were killed—yet too young to vote? There should be no question about it."

Roger Karpenske: "It should be changed to 18 years of age. Most people at 18 have a better knowledge of what's going on in the country today because of history courses and civic courses. It is still fresh in their minds.

"They are learning and have a more active interest in world affairs. Between 18 and 21 years of age, a lot is lost. Your interests change.

"You are more interested in your job, etc., and a number of things. So therefore you lose a lot. It most definitely should be changed to 18 years of age.

Dick Laremore: "Definitely should be changed to 18 years. I've met some teen-agers who really know more about politics than some older adults.

"We need the young blood and young ideas and some of the enthusiasm that is in today's youth.

"In fact, some teen-agers know more politically and have more on the ball than some people who are running the country.

"It takes more than age to vote intelligently. It takes interest and I feel these young people have it."

Hope Cid: "It would be marvelous because most of the 18 to 21-year-olds are in college and are really more aware of what's going on in the country.

"I have talked to some older people who are voters and they don't even know what's on the ballot. But just ask any young adult and 90 per cent of the time they can give you an intelligent answer. Most definitely the age should be changed."

MERCHANTS' SUPPORT

Better Business Bureau Reviewed

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau's "Barometer"

HERE'S AN ANSWER to the woman who complained: "I wish the Better Business Bureau had teeth. I tell them my story, they agree I am right, but that is the end of my complaint."

It would not have been the end of the customer's complaint if it had been a justifiable one and had been submitted on the special form that must be completed and signed by the complainant, or if the complaint had been sent to the Better Business Bureau by letter.

A recent survey showed that about 26 per cent of the adult population of the United States have a vague or an incorrect knowledge concerning the work of Better Business Bureaus.

Few consumers realize that Better Business Bureaus are supported solely by businessmen who believe in the self-control of private business and who value the good will of the customer enough to conduct their business along the proper lines.

A bureau member gives of his time and money to help to rebuild the public confidence in business that is destroyed by firms that are so engrossed in financial gain they forget their responsibility to the consumer.

ONE OF the prime functions of the Better Business Bureau is to submit seemingly justifiable customer complaints to firms — whether or not they are Bureau members.

Better Business Bureau membership does not guarantee immunity to the submission of complaints.

The Bureau acts as an impartial "listener" to the consumer's real or imagined complaint against business.

The complaint is sent on to the business house involved after the Bureau has determined it has been given a chance to effect a solution.

The Better Business Bureau does not process complaints to smooth customers' ruffled feelings.

Most business firms are grateful for the opportunity of being able to keep the good will of a disgruntled customer who has misunderstood a sales transaction in which business happened to be in the right.

THE BETTER Business Bureau works with individual firms in the development of voluntary standards of ethical practice.

It has been established through the years that voluntary action to end flagrant abuses in business and the fostering of fair competitive business has been more effective than legal processes.

It is not a legislative agency for business and has no enforcement powers to put unethical firms out of business at once — as some customers think should be done when they call the Bureau.

If the Bureau cannot resolve a justified complaint for the consumer and business is found to still be violating legislative enactments the firm's file data is turned over to the proper law enforcement agency for action.

In such cases, the Bureau works hand in hand with the law. Many governmental prosecutions of commercial frauds have been based on evidence have been based on evidence obtained from Better Business Bureau files and records.

The Better Business Bureau's predecessor, the Vigilance Committee of the advertising clubs, over 50 years ago, led the fight for truth in advertising.

The Better Business Bureau cannot:

1. Give legal advice or service, handle enforcement of civil contracts or handle complaints where an attorney has or should be engaged.
2. Help to void contracts made without fraud or misrepresentation. Make collections of any kind.
3. Give credit rating or credit information: act as a referee for any individual or business; give recommendations or endorsements or furnish lists of companies or individuals engaged in any particular line of business.
4. Help to obtain adjustments on unsatisfactory merchandise where no misleading advertising or sales representation can be proven; appraise articles; handle complaints regarding size or misfit of articles or pass judgment on any question concerning price charged for merchandise.

5 YEARS OF TRYING

Colma Flood Zone Formed

After more than five years of trying, the County Board of Supervisors finally succeeded last week in forming the Colma Creek Flood Control Zone.

The board authorized a resolution setting up the zone but did not decide any other particulars of its organization.

That is to be done at a meeting scheduled for April 7.

The supervisors first tried to form a county flood control district in 1959 and had their sites on the Colma Creek watershed as the first project.

Floods there had caused extensive damage, particularly in South San Francisco.

Other cities in the district—Daly City, Colma, San Bruno and Pacifica — objected to the legislation, however, and amendments had to be made before they would agree.

A bill seemingly favorable to all was approved by the state legislature last year.

V. K. Sanders, county flood control engineer, recommended to the board last week that the zone be formed and that it have within it zones of benefit, so that properties receiving the most good from the project would pay the most taxes.

He recommended further that an advisory committee be appointed and that the Army Corps of Engineers be requested to proceed with the project, which the Corps has estimated will cost $2,675,000.

Sanders said the federal government would pay $1 million of the cost and that the state would pay all but $275,000 of the remainder, which would have to be contributed by the county.

Larry Blasdale, representing the County Governmental Research Council, disagreed with Sanders on the type of project the board should authorize.

He called the federal figures high and advocated instead a strictly local project that would cost $500,000.

David Keyston, also representing GRC, seconded Blasdale's statements and asserted that the job will get done faster under local control.

Keyston took the opportunity to quote County Manager E. R. Stallings, who had stated earlier that local governments should beware of the lure of federal and state grants, because "it usually means only that a circuitous route is taken to the local taxpayer's pocket."

William C. Hern, president of the Peninsula Manufacturers' Association, said the local project should be tried first, then the federal project if the local project fails.

"We would like to have some thing done," Hern told the board, "and have it done today."

CSM BOND VOTE

'A Crisis Of Apathy'

"We face a crisis of apathy," a College of San Mateo official told the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce at a meeting in Nick's Restaurant last week.

William Goss, vice president of the college, speaking on the college's March 24 bond issue vote, said the apathy on the part of voters could result in defeat of the issue.

He said that a hard core of residents in the county who are content with the ways things are, will be able to defeat the $12.8-million bond issue if supporters of the proposal don't turn out and vote.

He called the programs to be financed by the bond issue "a genuine educational bargain" and warned that "unless we start planning now, we cannot possibly be ready" for anticipated college enrollments.

Goss noted that in June of this year alone, the county's high schools will graduate 32 per cent more students than they did in 1963.

He said that graduates will turn to other areas for their higher educational needs if San Mateo County can't fulfill them and warned that "we cannot afford to lose these young people."

In another talk, Sally Monroe, a student at Oceana High School, spoke on "Americanism." She was a finalist in the Pacifica Lions Club's annual speaking contest.

Basil Gladieux, chamber manager, reported that the chamber has welcomed its 109th member — William Jesperson, operator of Bill's Shell Station in Rockaway Beach.

Mrs. Nita Buchanan, coordinator of the Miss Pacifica Contest, reported that nine girls are in this year's race to stay.

She said that each of the nine has a sponsor.

FIRST TICKET to the Miss Pacifica Pageant of 1964, to be held in Oceana High School May 23, is sold to the city's First Couple, Mayor and Mars. Harold Feyge. Everyone's A Chef In Impending Barbecue Season

Summertime approaches, and everyone becomes a chef . . . even Dad and brother. The patio becomes the setting for meals. The grill takes the place of the kitchen range.

Barbecuing becomes an art to be accomplished . . . and canned condensed soups can establish a cook's reputation for excellence. The seasoning is already begun. All that's needed is a touch of mustard, for example, and presto—a superb barbecue sauce.

Canned condensed onion and tomato soups combine in this recipe for a sauce to turn grilled frankfurters into party-fare. The pantry additions? Simply pickle relish, brown sugar, and vinegar. Easy! This, too, is a great sauce for the youngsters to use. Why not launch your Junior Chefs with Souper Barbecued Franks like these.

Souper Barbecued Franks

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed onion soup
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1-3 cup pickle relish
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon vinegar

Combine all ingredients; simmer 15 minutes. Makes about 2½ cups sauce.

Here is another barbecue sauce variation with just canned condensed tomato soup as the base. Worcestershire and mustard add extra spiciness . . . and if you like it "hot" add a dash of "Tabasco" sauce. And, incidentally, you'll find this recipe great for barbecuing chicken in addition to the frank.

Barbecue Sauce Supreme

- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ⅓ cup chopped onion
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire
- 2 tablespoons prepared mustard
- Dash "Tabasco" sauce, if desired

In saucepan, cook celery, onion, and garlic in shortening until tender. Blend in remaining ingredients; simmer 10 minutes. Makes about 1 2-3 cups sauce. Serve on frankfurters and chicken.

Barbecued Frankfurters: (Outdoor Method): Prepare sauce as directed. Split 1 pound frankfurters lengthwise; brush with sauce. Place on grill over glowing coals. Cook, turning and brushing with sauce every few minutes, until nicely browned. Serve in buns with additional sauce. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Barbecued Chicken: (Outdoor Method): Thaw 2 packages (1 pound each) frozen chicken breasts, drumsticks, thighs, or wings as directed on package. Melt 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in heavy skillet placed on grill about 6 to 7 inhes above bed of hot coals. Add chicken; brown. Combine ingredients listed above (except shortening): add ½ soup can water. Pour in sauce. Tightly cover skillet with double thickness of aluminum foil. Cook about 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. To thicken sauce, remove cover; cook a few minutes. Stir now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Egg Salad Easy Stuffed

A pantryshelf ingredient helps makes eggs flavorsome.

Stuffed Egg Salad

- 6 hard-cooked eggs, shelled
- 1 can (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon finely grated onion pulp and juice
- Salad greens and ripe olives

Halve eggs lengthwise and remove yolks. Mash yolks with ham, mayonnaise and onion—salt will probably not be needed. Arrange stuffed egg halves on salad greens; garnish with olives. Serve with French dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Flank Steak Cuts Inexpensive

Less tender cuts of meat can be just as enjoyable as the more expensive cuts of meat. Proper seasoning and cooking are important in preparing these meats, but the rewards are great.

Stuffed flank steak, for instance, can be made from a less tender cut of beef. It features a tangy stuffing, and is cooked by the oven braising method. The stuffing makes this main dish fancy enough for company meals.

The stuffing is a delicate blend of mushrooms, minced onion, and mellow American blue cheese. The American blue cheese imparts a tangy flair to its flavor companion, hearty beef.

STUFFED FLAN KSTEAK

- 2 lb. flank steak (scored)
- ½ cup minced celery
- 1 cup mushroom pieces
- ½ cup minced onion
- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup soft bread cubes
- ½ cup chopped parsley
- ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

Saute celery, mushrooms, onion in butter. Add rest of ingredients and mix well. Spread over flank steak, leaving ½ inch border. From long side, roll up as a jelly-roll. Tuck in ends of steak and skewer. Skewer seam together. Place in shallow pan. Cover. Bake 1 hour, 45 minutes at 325 degrees or until done. Add a little water in the pan as necessary. Serves 6.

Splurge, But In Jigtime

When you need to splurge in jigtime, this is the dish!

SEAFOOD NEWBURG WITH WILD RICE

- ½ cup wild rice
- 1 package (11½ ounces) frozen lobster newburg
- 1 package (6 ounces) frozen king crab meat, thawed and drained

Cook the wild rice according to package directions or your own favorite method. Heat the lobster newburg according to package directions for double-boiler heating; abut 10 minutes before the lobster is ready, add the crabmeat. Serve over the hot cooked drained wild rice. Makes 4 servings.

Seek Jobs for Uneducated

WASHINGTON — A Phi Beta Kappa is heading the Labor Department's efforts to help a new brand of "dead end kids" who have trouble passing an eighth grade school test.

Samuel V. Merrick, new assistant manpower administrator for youth programs, won admission to the fraternity for the scholastic elite at the University of Pennsylvania int he late '30's.

Today his job is to find ways to aid the growing number of teen-agers who have failed in school and have few if any qualifications for the world of work.

Merrick was assigned to administer the part of the manpower act aimed at the "least employable" youths from 17 to 21. New amendments to the law give the government more tools and up to $100 million in the fiscal year starting next July 1 to deal with the problem.

Unemployment among teenagers, now about 15 per cent, has been triple the nation rate. The baby boom following World War II means that 2.7 million youngsters will reach their 18th birthday this year.

The job problem would be severe enough, considering the high level of joblessness, but it's often impossible of solution for youths from slum ohmes who have not done well in schol.

"We have a widening pool of youngsters for whom the ordinary vocational school is not suitable," Merrick said in an interview. "They're too far behind. Our job is to try to rehabilitate them into the mainstream of American economic life."

Overcrowded Colleges Can't Meet Future Needs

In 1962, when Johnny M. reached his senior year in high school the incredible happened. Though he was a top student, with a good future, there wasn't room for him at the college of his choice. Luckily, he was accepted at another. But some of his classmates were not so fortunate.

By 1985, this situation threatens to be worse. Then the student populatin will have doubled. And where are the schools for the 16 million more students to attend? though construction has increased 100 per cent in the past seven years, it's still not enough to meet even present needs. Many colleges and universities have expanded by increasing the number of teachers and making better use of existing facilities. They've become year round campuses — with the three year student a common campus sight.

A leading specialist in space utilization told the Committee on Higher Education ni Ne York state that if classrooms and labs were going on all burners, day and night, present facilities could handle four times the present number of students.

At present, many a college—from the smallest to those with over 15,000 students — operates on a year round basis so love-smitten coeds need not sigh about spending the summer apart from their football heros! As a matter of fact, physicians and pscyhiatrists who have checked students on a 48-week per year learning schedule find no ill effects of any sort. It is a disadvantage, however, for those who plan to work in summer to earn money for the following semesters.

Some colleges operate on a four-quarter-a-year plan, while others have two semesters with a heavy summer session. One college even has a special "trailer" session for freshmen, which starts three weeks later than the sessions for other years, but ends on the same day as the others by meeting more often.

No matter how many hours are squeezed into a year, even a year round campus can't make room for all the 16 million more students who will be rea to enroll in 1985. Nor for the seven million that will be pounding on the ivy-covered walls in just six more years. And expenses — salaries, equipment, construction, architecture—are rising just as fast as the population rate.

The average college spends about $16,000 for each four-year student and only half of that sum comes from the generous pocket of Joe College or his affluent father. Part comes from wealthy patrons of happy alumni who have fond recollections of their college days. Some also comes from state and municipal funds that support their local universities.

Most of the colleges, that are good old Alma Mater to the average American, however, are not large privately endowed schools, nor are they municipally supported. These private colleges are beginning to turn to business leaders for help, since the federal government can't begin to cover their over-all financial need.

Many corporations realize that they have an obligation to private colleges, because that's where their future employes come from. Corporate gifts to private colleges, given through 40 state associations since 1948 reached more than $84,000,000 in 1963, according to the Independent College Funds of America. This organization represents nearly 500 private colleges through its statewide groups.

Independent College Funds of America asserts that corporate giving to colleges is an investment in the future of American business. Just one direct example of the dividends that accrue to this appracoh is the campus-conducted research which so frequently leads to important advances in business and industry.

May 1 Is Deadline at S. J. State

San Jose State College has set May 1 as the deadline for filing applications to enter the fall semester for all incoming freshmen and lower division transfers.

Recently the board of trustees of the California state colleges imposed a limit of 3,700 combined total of freshmen and lower division students who may enter SJSC in the fall. The figure of 3,700 is approximately the number of new lower division students who entered SJSC in the fall of 1963 when a record 19,400 students enrolled.

The date for filing applications to enter SJSC as upper division students is July 15. The deadline for foreign students is July 1 and August 15 is the filing date for graduate students.

In past years the deadline for applications has been August 1 for all students.

Turkey Festive In Spring, Too

Turkey is festive, fashionable and fitting for springtime meals. Whether you're planning a family get-together for the Easter holiday weekend, or entertaining on a grand scale, turkey will provide a tasty, nutritious main dish that's easy to prepare, attractive to serve.

Our springtime buffet features liberal slices of both white and dark meat of a roast turkey. The meat is arranged attractively on a large tray. At each end, individual fuit cocktail salad molds are arranged amid a garnish of tender Bibb lettuce leves. Salad dressing is in the ceramic turkey which stands watch over the big tray.

We suggest roasting your turkey the day before Easter, while preparing the gelatin molds. Homemade muffins can be made then, too, needing only reheating before the Easter buffet. An entire meal prepared on Saturday will give you time to enjoy the Easter festivities, too.

You'll need a large bird if you want plenty of attractive slices for a buffet. Or roast two birds of about 12 pounds in weight, as the supply of this size bird makes them a most attractive buy this season. Allow at least 1½ pounds, ready-to-cook weight, per person to have extra meat for later meals. Slices and small pieces can be wrapped in foil or saran and frozen in meal-sized amounts for casseroles, turkey pie, salads or sandwiches.

ROASTING THE TURKEY

Turkeys of any size may be roasted. Correct roasting is slow cooking by dry heat on a rack in an open pan. It requires no water, no basting, no cover and no searing. Always roast turkey done in one continuous cooking period.

Low temperatures assure better flavor and appearance, less shrinkage and less loss of juices.

A shallow, open pan allows the heat to circulate around the bird, roasting it evenly A rack at least ½ inch high raises the bird off the bottom of the pan, keeping it out of the juices.

For best results, follow these simple steps:

1. Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. (slow).
2. Rinse bird with cold water, drain and pat dry. Rub cavity of bird lightly with salt, if desired. Do not salt if stuffed.
3. Fill wishbone area (neck) with stuffing, if used. Fasten neck skin to back with skewer. Fill cavity lightly, if stuffing is used. Push drumsticks under band of skin at tail, if present, or tie them to tail.
4. Place turkey on rack in shallow roasting pan, breast side up. Brush skin with fat. If a roast meat thermometer is to be used, insert it so that the bulb is in the center of the inside thigh muscle or the thickest part of the breast meat. Be sure that the bulb does not touch bone.
5. Place in preheated oven. If desired, baste or brush occasionally with pan drippings — especially any dry areas. When turkey is two-thirds done, cut cord or band of skin at drumsticks. Place a loose covering of aluminum foil over the turkey to prevent excessive browning. Continue roasting until done.

Youngsters Like Raisin-Nut Cake

What a treat for hungry youngsters who have been outside playing tag, splashing in puddles or jumping rope—a spicy Raisin-Nut Cake.

It's rich, moist and chock-full of raisins and nuts. The important ingredient that subtly enhances the flavor and makes the cake so distinctive is citrus-flavored 7-Up. This easy cake recipe belongs in your file of family favorites.

Old-Fashioned Raisin-Nut Cake

2 cups seedless raisins, finely chopped
1½ cups 7-Up
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 eggs
2 cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nutmeats

Heat raisins and 7-Up to boiling; let stand until cool. Meanwhile, cream together butter and brown sugar; add eggs. Beat well. Sift flour with ginger, salt and soda. Add to creamed mixture alternately with raisin mixture. Add vanilla and nutmeats. Pour into two well-greased 8-inch layer pans; bake at 375°F. about 35 minutes or until done. Let cool 10 minutes; remove from pans and cool thoroughly. Frost cake with lemon-flavored butter-cream icing. Makes two 8-inch layers.

PERFECT PARTNER for Easter Ham: Hot Sweet Mustard Sauce.

Ham Partner Is Made at Home

Baked ham benefits from taste-teasing partners, and one of the best of these is a hot sweet mustard sauce. Nowadays such a sauce comes ready-prepared, but what satisfaction there is in concocting it at home!

The first sauce recipes of this sort that we tried were made by a traditional mixing etjpd and had a tendency to "leak" on storage. A change of mixing method was needed to give a satin-smooth product that would remain stable over a reasonable period of time. The following recipe incorporates this change in method.

After the hot sweet mustard suace has had its debut with baked ham or smoked boneless pork shoulder butt, you can use the remainder in various ways. Here are several suggestions.

Add it, along with a little mayonnaise, to chopped hard-cooked eggs for a salad or for a sandwich filling. Use it, too, to add to the yolk mixture for deviled eggs.

Mix a little of the sauce with cooked vegetables—snap beans, carrots, green peas—and use as a filling for stuffed tomato salad. If you haven't small amounts of cooked leftover vegetables on hand, you can use a package of cooked frozen mixed vegetables. In either case, add a little finely diced raw celery for crisp texture contrast.

HOT SWEET MUSTARD SAUCE

3 tablespoons dry mustard
2 tablespoons corn oil
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon corn starch
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup white vinegar
2-3 cup water

In a small mixing bowl stir together the mustard and corn oil until perfectly smooth. Add water, 1 tablespoon at a time, stirring after each addition to keep smooth; reserve. In a small saucepan stir together thoroughly the corn starch, sugar and salt. Gradually stir in vinegar and water; mix until smooth. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Add to mustard mixture, pouring in a steady stream and stirring constantly to keep smooth. Turn into jar. Cool. Cover and store in refrigerator. Makes about 1 cup.

Note: For a deeper yellow color, you may stir in a pinch of turmeric with the mustard.

Crunch on Snack That's A 'Muncher'

Crunch on a muncher. Here's a snack that one munch will lead to another bite. Crunchy popcorn crackle with its memory of prizes in packages and happy days at the circus can now be made at home in a jiffy. While the candy coating cooks, the popcorn pops in its own foil frypan. Mix the cooked syrup with the popped corn and then just let it harden before breaking into pieces. It is delicious and a real favorite snack with all ages.

JIFFY CRACKLE

1 foil package ready-top-pop corn
½ cup light molasses
¾ cup light corn syrup
1¼ cups sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Pop the corn according to package directions. Put popped corn into large bowl. Mix molasses, corn syrup, sugar, butter together in saucepan. Bring to boil and continue to cook to hard crack stage (285-290 degrees Fahrenheit). Remove from heat immediately and pour over popped corn. Mix well. Grease piece of waxed paper. Spread mixture into layer on paper. Cool until mixture hardens. Then break into pieces.

Wine-Poached Apples Will Add Glamour

Spicy cinnamon apples, poached in a red wine syrup, are likely to becom ethe glamor dessert of the season. The wine, a Burgundy or claret from California, has a full-bodied fruitiness that remains to compliment the apples even after the gentle cooking vaporizes the alcohol in the wine. Red cinnamon candies dissolved in the syrup provide the delightful spiciness.

A topping of sour cream, a sprinkling of grated orange peel and small glasses of the dessert wine, California Port, put the finishing touch to this simple yet wonderfully sophisticated dessert.

WINE POACHED APPLES

2-3 cup sugar
¼ cup red cinnamon candies
1 cup California Burgundy, Claret or other red dinner wine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 cooking apples
Dairy sour cream
Granted orange pel

Combine first four ingredients and heat slowly, stirring frequently, until sugar and candies are dissolved. Add pared and cored apples, and cook gently until tender, turning carefully toavoid breaking apples. Chill in syrup. Serve with sour cream and a sprinkling of grated orange peel, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Colorful Pimiento

Use strips of bright pimiento for prettily garnishing meats, or include chopped pimiento in a casserole for enlivening the color.

No Dessert Needed With A Hot Bread

No dessert needed when this hot bread is served.

Ham Omelet
Cottage Chese and Relish Tray
Sweet Twists Beverage

SWEET TWISTS

1½ cups sifted flour
½ cup enriched white corn meal
2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
1-3 cup milk
1-3 cup orange juice
Orange filling

Sift together the flour, cornmeal, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until particles are fine. Gradually add milk, then orange juice, stirring lightly until mixture is dampened. (If necessary, add a little more milk to make a soft dough.) Turn out on prepared pastry cloth; knead gently a few seconds. Roll dough to form a 12 by 10-inch rectangle. Spread with orange filling. Fold in half so filling is together. Cut into 12 strips, 1-inch wide. Take hold of each end of a strip and twist tightly in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet 1 inch apart in hot (425 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 1 dozen.

Orange Filling: Gradually beat 2-3 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and the grated rind of 1 orange into 2 tablespoons soft butter.

'King Of All Pizza --- Long Live The King'

ENRICO JOSEPH VALENTINO ROMANO is a name hard to forget — especially if you've met the man. Some eight years ago, when covering the restaurant circuit for the former San Francisco News, I somehow wound up in the vicinity of Rockaway Beach in Pacifica. So I decided to make some new acquaintances and see just what made this territory click.

ENRICO ROMANO

One of the first stops was Romano's, a quaint spot with plenty of parking space and easily accessible from Highway One. A dapper gent with a twinkle in his eye, a full head of hair and a mustache to match greeted me from behind the bar (he served beer only in those days) with "What can I do for you, sir?"

After explaining my mission, he was quick to inform me that he was Romano "King of All Pizza" and if I doubted it he had the food to prove it. Before I could answer he called back to the kitchen, "Hey, Ma (Ma, I was to learn, was Enricketta Romano, a sweet and loveable Italian lady), fix this gent one of our pizzas."

I've tried pizzas from coast to coast, plus all inland points, so one more wouldn't do any harm. Well, it was delicious! "Ma" and Enrico explained how they prepared their own dough and sauces from recipes passed down through the family from restaurant days in sunny Italy. Which proved to me, without a doubt, that Enrico Romano deserves the royal title "King of All Pizza."

Today, Romano's restaurant serves, along with pizza, a complete choice of Italian and American dinners. Cocktails have been added to the beverage list, there's a new stainless steel kitchen, and the interior depicts a scene from an Italian picture book.

Enrico Joseph Valentino Romano still calls back to "Ma" in the kitchen — only now he has six waitresses and two bartenders to relay the message. As for me, I'm a confirmed Romano's pizza customer. "Long live the king."

'Frenchy' Dennison Office Invasion Big Success

During the quiet and peaceful hours of a late Tuesday afternoon while pounding away on a typewriter, the stillness was shattered by the opening of the office front door. I was invaded, man, and how!

Into my secret room strolled Frank "Frenchy" Dennison and a bevy of his Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn beauties, who had deserted the restaurant scene, temporarily. All wore berets, smoked cigarettes in long holders (at least 12 inches long), had bottles of Mumm Gordon Rouge Brut tucked under their arms, and spoke French - like they had just stepped off the boat. Suddenly a black beret was slipped over my sparsely-covered noggin, and I became a member of the "cast."

"What's the occasion?" I asked sincerely surprised.

"First, we thought we would give you an idea of what to expect on April 2 when our new French menu is previewed in the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn. Second, to welcome you to South El Camino Real" (a recent office move on my part).

What a welcome it turned out to be! If you folks would enjoy a little of the same treatment, which is a hobby with Frank Dennison, suggest you stop in the Sheraton-Villa and take in the French atmosphere that now prevails. Come April 2, who knows, maybe Brigitte Bardot!

Keith Williamson plans to "light up" another oven at his Burlingame Chicken and Steak House and set up a bakery section. If the goods are as tasty as his pies, success is assured. Keith is now serving luncheon as well as dinner—95 cents is the asking price.

Some big news from Ed Sullivan at the Burlingame Hyatt House Hotel, next week, on future plans in all divisions.

THIS IS NOT KING FAROUK — Frank "Frenchy" Dennison, general manager of the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn, and a bevy of beauties spent Tuesday afternoon advertising the debut of a new French dinner menu, with champagne to complement, on April 2. (L to R) Margaret Neville, Diane Perkins, Louella Brueck, and Ingrid Pleschmidt.

Lew Lehr, the Marina steak man, asks if we heard of the little old lady who moved out of her house—lox, stock and bagel?

The Redwood City Burma Club is making its entertainment debut, this weekend, with live music and dancing scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights.

The private rooms at Phil Lehr's Steakery, seating from 10 to 85, are reserved by organizations regularly for luncheon and dinner parties.

One of the most requested daily specials at Moar's Cafeteria in the Hillsdale Shopping Center is the hot roast beef sandwich carved to order. Moar's is the ideal eating place for the entire family. Food and prices can't be beat.

No banquet problems in Rockaway Beach. Nick's settles all questions on "Where shall we hold our party?"

Music by The Norsemen, featuring Jan Collins, continues to be the top Hillsdale Inn attraction. Ditto, the food in the King Henry restaurant.

Entertainment spread at the Mountain View Caravan Inn starts once again on Monday, March 16. Featured will be the Nob Hill Trio, and Siva, the exotic belly dancer from San Francisco's North Beach. This is one show opening I won't miss — and neither should you.

Pleasing factor in the Hotel Claremont's new Prime Rib Room is the large number of repeat customers who come back time and again for the low cost ($3.75) prime rib dinner.

No Cover Charge Sinaloa Diners

Luz Garcia's Sinaloa, a famous San Francisco entertainment show place where name stars from South America and Mexico blend talents to create one of the most exciting all-Latin revues in this country, is also one of the most sought out Mexican food centers for those who enjoy this type of cuisine. Also New York and filet steaks. For the late nighters, there are the after-12 midnight snack selections. The dining room is open from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. with full menu service right up to the closing hour. No cover charge for patrons ordering dinner when the music and entertainment starts at 8 p.m. Three floor shows nightly, Monday through Saturday.

Vince Licata Has Problem

Vince Licata, the seafood "Midas," has a problem: Since moving his crab oven 50 feet north, those who were accustomed to seeing it adjacent to Vince's Italian Restaurant (the old location) are phoning in and asking what happened to it. "The only thing that has happened," Vince informed me Wednesday p.m., "is that I spent a few hundred thousand dollars to give our customers the best — and now they can't find it."

Marshall Naifi, the motion picture biggie, flew from New York to dine at Oreste's. Another reason was to discuss a $14,000,000 picture he is about to produce.

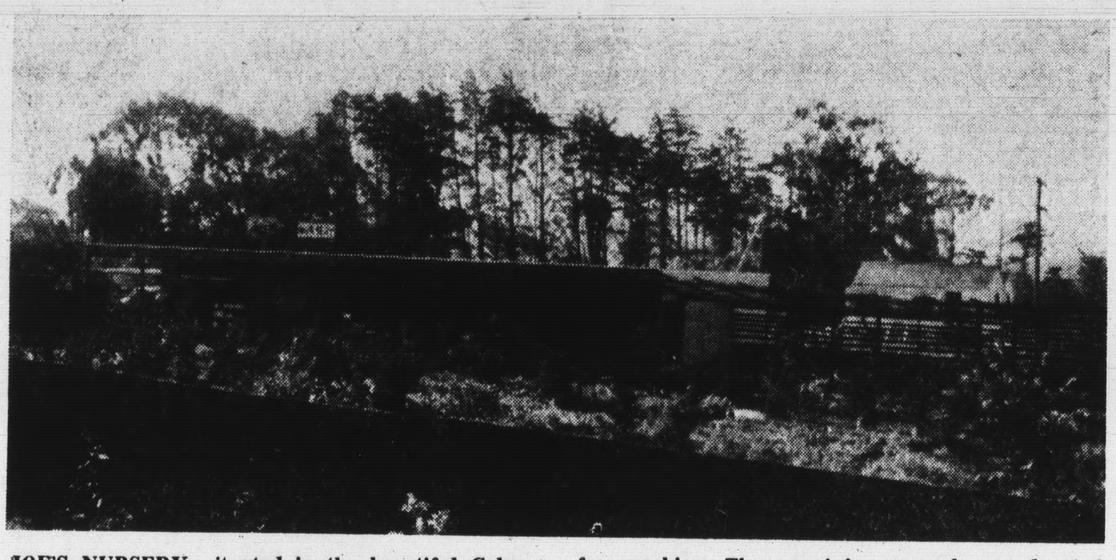
JOE'S NURSERY IS COMPLETE GARDEN HEADQUARTERS



JOE'S NURSERY, situated in the beautiful Colma hills just south of Daly City, is owned and operated by well known nurseryman Joe Cherolis and his wife, Raye. Joe's Nursery, serving the gardening community for the past 17 years, opened in its present location at 1777 Hillside boulevard in 1962. The nursery occupies nearly 1½ acres of property, of which one-half acre is set aside for convenient free parking. The remaining grounds are devoted to the nursery service, both wholesale and retail, and the retail garden store, which is headquarters for the fine Ortho lawn and garden products, as well as exclusive dealership for Wilkinson garden tools. The Cherolis offer courteous service along with helpful gardening information, two factors that have contributed strongly to the success of Joe's Nursery.

INTERIORS BY RICHTER

Make Your Home Look "Best Dressed" This Year

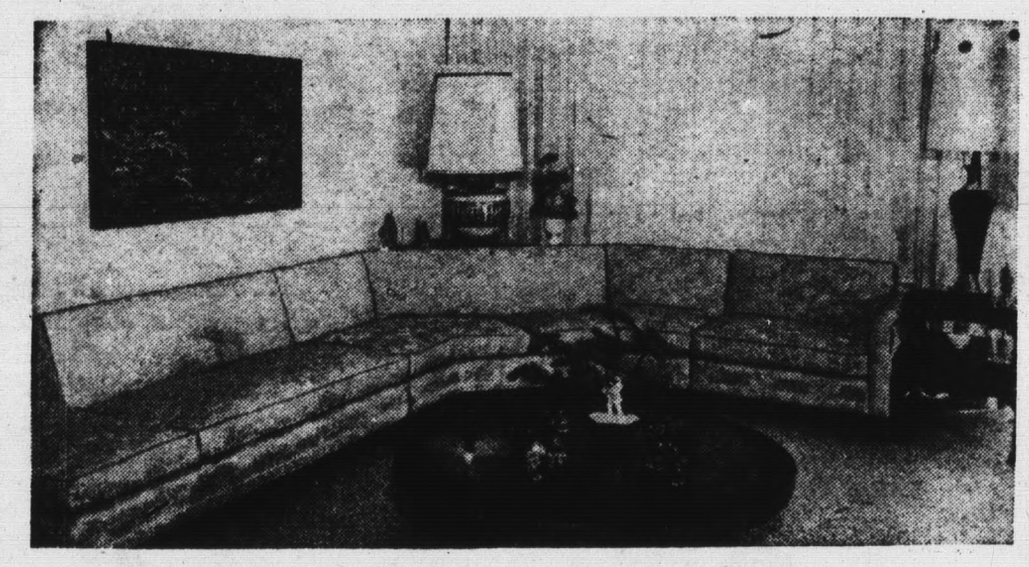
Why not pamper yourself a little by making your home look "Best dressed" this year. Make it the dream home you've always wanted by starting at Richter's with the SPICE OF THE ORIENT . . .

Here is the masterstroke of craftsmanship . . . Serene strong lines and simple shapes. Such casual beauty . . . so easy to live with. Here is 20 feet of gorgeous seating comfort . . . Glorious in design, in fabric, in color. Practical in concept, smart in use. A decorator's gift . . . A housewife's delight.

We've sold many hundreds of sectionals—we believe this is about the nicest we've ever seen. And then there are two lovely, lovely chairs! A special oriental design found only at Richter's in a rich ebony finish, hand-crafted in many beautifully colored fabrics.

The cocktail table is extraordinary in styling and workmanship. Look at the lovely gold leaf top and soft ebony finish on the base. Notice how sturdily it stands . . . How proudly it ornaments the room! And that's not all . . . Two other Oriental styled tables just the right height to show off these handsome Far East lamps.

You will be excited about the luxury look it will give your room! You'll be proud to have your home decoration as fashionably coordinated as your personal apparel. We'll be glad to help by guiding you in the room placement, the proper size piece for the area planned. The right color combination for the entire setting . . . A planning program that's hard to beat! Yours free when you buy your beautiful things at Richter's. Come in now and let us tell you more about our decorating services.



Are home furnishings expensive! They may seem so, but over the years, the amount spent on good furniture is rather small indeed. Examine the itemized list in this ad and you will see how carefully chosen each article has been to make your "dream home" a reality and at a price you can afford to pay! A mere $159.50 down and $44.72 per month!

Remember, a bargain is only a bargain if it is something you want and need . . . and if it will give you the satisfaction it promises. Richter's stands behind these bona fide values. Ours is a "show store," full of ideas. Come see this beautiful grouping and many other interesting things and ideas . . . that will help make your home "best dressed" not only this year but for many years to come!!

Of course you may select similar tables and lamps. Fabric colors and designs to suit your individual taste; and at Richter's fabulous room group price!
